QUAY'S SCHEME

TO REVOLUTIONIZE THE GOVERNMENT

TO PERPETUATE HIS PARTY.

The Census to Be Fraudulent, So That Southern States May Lose Population—A A Daring, Desperate Fight.

PITTSBURG, April 29.—[Special.]—It was known that, upon the occasion of the Americus banquet last Saturday night, Congressman Bayne became so exhilarated that he was unable to stand on his feet when the time came for him to respond to the toast "The Ways and Means," on which committee he holds such a prominent position, and that the private secretary of the pious Wanamaker, who was here as the representative of the postmaster general, gazed upon the popping corks until he became enthusiastic enough to figure as his chief in a pretty stiff Sunday morning game of poker at the Seventh Avenue hotel, but not until today was it disclosed that during these hours of revelry important political secrets were revealed

HOW THE STORY GOT OUT.

The Americus club is emphatically a Quay organization, but numbers among its members not a few adherents to Chris Magee, of whom Congressman Dalzell is the chief.

It was with one of these faithful followers of Magee, though some other persons were present, that Frank Willing Leach, the private secretary and factotum of the chairman of the national republican committee, became involved in a lively argument, some time after the close of the banquet proper.

In such company the conversation naturally drifted upon Quay's leadership of the party, and then the Magee man became indignant. He loudly proclaimed that Quay had sacrificed the organization for the sake of one victory, that the coming house of representatives would surely be overwhelmingly democratic, and that foreseeing the signs of disaster, the chairman was, according to common report, getting ready to resign.

THE SCHEME EXPOSED.

"Don't fool yourself," responded Leach in a half angry, half pitying tone. "That meeting of the republican committee on May 7th is called for different purposes than the acceptance of Quay's resignation. It is called to take official action upon a plan which, perfected by Quay and some of them under his direction, already well under way, promises to insure the permanent control of all branches of the government to the republican party."

Leach stopped a moment, and then abruptly asked his companion:

"Who is taking this census anyway?"

"Robert P. Potter and his assistants, I suppose," was the somewhat surprised answer.

"Yes, and you can just bet that it will be taken right," was the speedy answer.

"What do you suppose Quay spent all those weeks in Florida for? Tarpon-fishing? Well, hardly. Let me tell you," and here his voice became at once emphatic and mysterious, "That a southern negro will have to be very conspicuous to be counted in the census this year."

"What do you mean?"

"Just what I say. The census enumerators will discover very few southern negroes this year. The negroes will not kick, and nobody else will be allowed to. You can see in a moment the momentous result of this. We expect to have the census completed by June 20. Thanks to an amendment to the laws proposed on the subject, proposed by Sunset Cox, the certificate of Superintendent Porter is all that congress needs to take action for a new apportionment."

HOW THE SOUTH WILL LOSE.

"By our system of counting," continued the speaker, growing more enthusiastic, "we expect the southern states to lose at least eighteen or twenty representatives. If the negro is not counted at the polls, he shall not be in the census. The northwestern states will gain in just about the proportion that the southern ones will lose. Minnesota will get three or four more congressmen, and Kansas and Nebraska perhaps a half dozen each, not to speak of the Dakotas and the rest of them."

"But can such action be forced through congress at the eleventh hour, against all precedent?" exclaimed his listener in astonishment.

"It can, and easily, too. You see this is not a hasty scheme. It was decided upon as soon as it was found that the democrats would redistrict Ohio. The McComas anti-gerrymandering bill will not be passed. It does not cover the exigencies of the case. There is need for more radical action."

ALL A PART OF A PLAN.

"Everything that has been done in congress so far," continued Mr. Leach, "has been a part of one great plan. With Reed and his rules we now have the house in such shape that any measure can be rushed through whenever or in as short a time as may be necessary. The senate has still to be fixed, and that is why Chandler introduced his resolution for the new rules a few days ago. Morton has gone away, and will not be back until the battle is over. With Ingalls in the chair, and the improved rules in force, the measure can be rushed through, if the republicans are solid."

THE GRANNIES IN THE SENATE.

"And right there is the only stumbling block," exclaimed Leach, "there are a few old grannies in the senate like Edmunds, Blair and Evarts, who kick at everything which is not done according to precedent tradition. But they must be forced into line. The salvation of the party demands it. The apportionment bill is not all of the plan, however. Special sessions of the legislature in certain states will be called under directions from the national committee, to so redistrict for congressional purposes as to make the most of the increased opportunities. It will be of no use for the democrats to attempt to follow this line of action, for, with the exception of one or two states, they will find a decided decrease, and not an increase to deal with."

NOW WHAT DO YOU THINK?

"Now," asked the speaker, triumphantly, "what do you think about the next congress? And of course, the same situation applies to the electoral votes. There is one state usually called southern, by the way, to which the census scheme does not apply. That is West Virginia. It is surely republican in 1892. In the last two years Steve Elkins, through his land, coal and railroad companies, has introduced 4,000 new votes into the state. It was made the first condition of their employment that they should be tried and true republicans. West Virginia will vote for the next republican candidate for president beyond all possibility of dispute."

"That is but one feature of the plan," continued Leach. "The actual work of the next presidential campaign is already well under way."

MUD-SLINGING PROMISED.

It looks as though Cleveland will be again the democratic candidate, and Quay now has in his possession personal ammunition, which he will fire. Some of this may be even fired off at an early date if these little attacks upon Quay are not stopped.

THE DEMOCRATS WILL SUCCEED.

So Says Henry Watterson, in a Charleston Interview.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 29.—[Special.—The southern editors are getting here in numbers. The first arrival was that of Henry Watterson, who is to lecture tomorrow night on "Money and Morals."

In an interview today, Mr. Watterson talked politics to some extent. He said:

"I think the republicans have bitten off more than they can chew. Their plan is to secure, during the two years in which they possess the government, all legislation that they will need for ten years. They expect to carry a few districts in the south to put themselves in shape to carry the general election in 1892. I do not believe that they will succeed. I think their extremism and excesses will so react upon them in the north as to entirely negative any advantages they may acquire by forced legislation."

THE DEMOCRATIC HOPE.

Speaking of the democratic hope for the next election, he says:

"I believe that the disintegration of the republican party of the northwest will continue, but as to the hopes of a democratic victory at the next election, I have not changed my views that the democratic party will still have to look to and rely most certainly on states like New York, New Jersey, Indiana and Connecticut. It will require them, with the united south, to carry the election, taking the new states into the republican account."

WHO WILL BE CANDIDATES.

Of the outlook in 1892, he says he regards it as encouraging. "If New York shall come to the convention united for Cleveland, there is no doubt that he will be nominated; but if such be not the case the party must look elsewhere for a nominee. It would be suicidal to take the nominee from New York state if it were divided, and there was an evident determination of any considerable body to knife the party. Outside of Cleveland there is no one whom I think of now as the nominee. No one knows what may happen."

MUGWUMPS MUST BE DISCARDED.

"I believe if Cleveland should go back to the white house, he will go as a democrat, and not as a mugwump, though I have nothing to say against the mugwumps, and mean no disrespect to them in this reference. I simply mean that I take no stock in the ideas of civil service reform as they were advanced by the great mugwump leaders and newspapers, and accepted by Mr. Cleveland, believing, as I do, that this is a representative government, based upon party responsibility; not a government of mere individuals, holding their places by a kind of divine right of their own assumption and assertion."

To Put Out a Full State Ticket.

CHARLESTON, S. C. April 29.—[Special.]—It is learned here on reliable information that a publican state convention will be held in this city shortly, in response to the orders of E. M. Brayton, state chairman. It is said that 152 delegates have already been elected, and that the object of the meeting is to put out a full state ticket.

SENECA IN FLAMES.

Over Fifteen Thousand Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed.

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 29.—[Special.]—The town of Seneca, S. C., was visited by the fire fiend on Sunday morning last, and an entire block of buildings in the business center was laid in ashes within a few hours. The fire was first discovered about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning in the postoffice. In a few minutes, despite the efforts of the citizens, who fought nobly and were without fire apparatus, the postoffice and four wooden buildings adjoining were entirely consumed. The heat from these soon caught the brick building on the opposite corner, occupied by O. F. Bacon, and in a short while it and its contents were also consumed. The losses, as near as can be learned, are as follows:

John C. Carey, four wooden store rooms, $3,000; insurance $1,000.

W. O. Hamilton, two brick stores, $2,500; no insurance.

Miss Phillips's wooden building, $700; insurance $450.

D. McElroy, stock of drugs, $3,000; insurance $1,600.

W. B. Taylor, stock of jewelry, $600; no insurance.

The contents of the postoffice, except what was in the safe, were lost.

Wakefield, colored, lost nearly all his stock of groceries, amounting to $3,300; insurance $1,200.

O. F. Bacon lost his household effects and nearly all of a $1000 stock of goods.

The Keowell hotel was badly scorched and had a narrow escape. Altogether, it was the most disastrous fire Seneca has ever known. It is learned that the entire burnt district will soon be rebuilt with a row of handsome brick buildings.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Futures opened lower and further declined, closing at about the lowest figures of the day and eight to ten points off from yesterday. It is no longer speculation in cotton, but in silver. Silver lost a part of its late advance; so did cotton. Cotton, of itself, is weak, but silver may carry it higher. At any rate, you cannot win unless you bet, and then you are apt to lose. The weather at the south was clear and cool; in short, the temperature at many points is quite too low. The crop movement is pretty well maintained at interior towns. Cotton was one-sixteenth lower and dull.

The Bank Did a Poor Business.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The Homestead bank, doing business at the corner of Tenth avenue and Fifty-third street, has shut down. Its affairs are now in the hands of N. A. Chapman, who was connected with the Western National bank. Everyone will receive the money due him. The bank was not profitable and the depositers were asked to withdraw their money.

TWO BAD BILLS

WHICH MAY CALL FORTH MANY PROTESTS.

THE BILL A RESULT OF IGNORANCE.

The Butterworth Bill Hard Upon the Farmer, While the Lard Bill is One of Glaring Sectional Interest.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—[Special.]—Protests are coming in from every section against the Butterworth "options" or "futures" bill, which places a heavy license fee upon dealers in futures, together with a tax upon every pound or bushel of certain specified articles so bought or sold. Its object is to break up the speculative dealings or corners which have taken place in the grain, cotton and meat markets of recent years.

BUT IT GOES MUCH FURTHER.

In speaking of it today a Southern member said:

"The object sought was not merely the moral one of the suppression of gambling, but even more potent was the idea of relief for the farmer, who has been popularly supposed to be ground between the bulls and bears, the victim of each in turn. This view predominated with the committee which reported the bill favorably on the 8th of April, as is clearly apparent from an amendment which they made, exempting from the full effect of it the agreement made by farmers in respect to crops in the actual course of production. However, the bill shows that its framers were not familiar with modern business methods.

AS IT AFFECTS COTTON.

That portion of the bill which relates to cotton, in place of relieving the farmers, only increases their burdens, and at the same time should the bill become a law, would terribly cripple one of the south's most important industry, the manufacture of fertilizers. Under the present practice fertilizers are shipped and sold during the winter months for the ensuing cottou crop. The farmer has not, as a rule, to pay cash for the same. To give a cash note would compel him to market his crop by a given date to meet his obligations, a condition which the buyer would be quick to take advantage of to his detriment. What he does do is to give a cotton note, payable in cotton at an agreed valuation per pound, but since this is given before a plant is in the ground, it would not come under the exemption clause. The present practice enables the farmer to pay a part, and often an important part of his indebtedness with his produce at a fair valuation, which the fertilizer manufacturer then converts into cash. Abolish this method, and the grower becomes a victor indeed, while the increased uncertainty of receiving his pay injures directly the manufacturers of the fertilizers.

OPPOSES MANUFACTURERS.

Nor is this all. The cotton manufacturers, as well, are made to suffer. There is hardly a manufacturer in the country who could give storage room for a year's supply of his raw article, or who could detach the requisite amount of capital from his business to lay in a year's, or even six months' stock. He can now, however, go into the market, purchase, say 50,000 bales, deliverable at the rate of 1,000 bales per month, save the cost of storage and insurance on the great bulk of the material, have it along as it is actually needed for the manufacturer, and by taking advantage of favorable conditions of the market, insure a reasonable profit in the competition to which he is subject, and keep his hands continually employed."

Such are some of the legitimate operations in a single article which would be broken up should the Butterworth bill become a law.

PROTESTS ARE COMING IN.

In the face of this danger protests are flowing upon the members of congress in a steady stream, and a lively debate is certain to be heard when the bill is called up in the house.

The Butterworth bill is one of two important measures recently reported from the house agricultural committee. The other is the Conger lard bill. The men who favor the Butterworth bill, as a rule, oppose the Conger lard bill. Both sides want a day fixed for the house to consider the bill they favor, but want the other laid aside. Those who favor the lard bill are very much opposed to the Butterworth bill, and the two factions of the house are fighting each other's bills vigorously. For this reason it is believed by many that neither of the two bills will pass. However, if the Butterworth bill were before the house, and a vote was reached, it would probably pass, but the difficulty its supporters will experience will be in getting it considered.

PLYING QUESTIONS TO SHERMAN,

But He Has Not the Time to Answer Them.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—After the transaction of some routine morning business of little public importance, the consideration of the land forfeiture bill was resumed in the senate.

The debate on Mr. Call's amendment was continued by Messrs. Plumb, Berry, Mitchell, and Call.

During the debate, Mr. Platt interrupted and offered a concurrent resolution (which was agreed to), requesting the president to return the Oklahoma bill. He explains that, owing to an error of his own, the word "west" had been used in place of the word "east," in the description of the boundaries.

Finally Mr. Dolph moved to lay the amendment on the table. There was not a quorum voting (yeas 27, nays 14), but as a call of the senate showed the presence of fifty-two members, the vote was about to be taken again when Mr. Sherman rose and gave notice that whenever there was a quorum present and the vote did not disclose that fact, he should insist upon the sensible rule, that senators present and not voting should be counted.

Several senators complained that they had not been able to hear Mr. Sherman's remarks.

Mr. Sherman—I will repeat it. I say that hereafter when there is a quorum present (and more than a quorum present), but when, on account of pairs and of the absence of some senators, a quorum does not appear as voting, I will insist on the chair deciding the question and naming the senators present who are entitled to vote and have not voted.

Mr. Cockrell—Disregarding pairs?

Mr. Sherman—No, not disregarding the pairs.

Mr. Cockrell—Then how can they make a quorum if they cannot vote?

Mr. Blackburn—Is it the purpose of the senator from Ohio either to disregard the pairs of senators, or to disregard a rule of the senate, and authorize its presiding officer to do that which the speaker of the house has been recently engaged in doing?

Mr. Sherman—I would not break a pair, but there are one or two senators present, whom I will not name, for whom pairs were not announced, and who did not vote on the last vote. I think it is the duty of every person who is not paired, to vote, and that is the position that I have always occupied. I never have been present unpaired without feeling it my duty to vote.

Mr. Blackburn—I agree to that.

Mr. Sherman—Today there were only one or two senators present who probably did not care to vote, and who did not vote. In such a case as that, I think that the fact of their being present, constituting a quorum, may be properly announced by the chair, and I believe that even the rule adopted by the house of representatives is in exact accordance with our own rule and with the constitution.

Mr. Blackburn—Will the senator answer me one other question?

Mr. Sherman—Yes.

Mr. Blackburn—Does he in the face of the rules, under which this body has acted, hold that it is within the power of the presiding officer to recognize as present, any senator, who under his obligation as he construes it, thinks that he has no right to vote?

Mr. Plumb—I rise to a question of order. The pending motion is to lay the amendment on the table, and debate is not in order.

Mr. Blackburn—I am not debating, I am only asking a question.

Mr. Cullom—There was but one vote lacking of a quorum, and that vote is present now.

The vice-president directed the clerk to call the roll.

Mr. Blackburn—I ask unanimous consent to have time given to the senator from Ohio to answer the question which I have propounded to him.

Mr. Sherman—I would rather not answer it now. There is a non-debatable question pending—a motion to lay on the table.

The question was again taken, and Mr. Call's amendment was laid on the table by a strict party vote—yeas 30, nays 18.

Mr. Pasco offered an amendment giving to actual settlers on railroad lands, where the road was not built within the time limited in the grants, the right to perfect their entries under the homestead and pre-emption acts.

This amendment was laid on the table by a like vote—30 to 18.

Another amendment was offered by Mr. Call, and was similarly disposed of.

Mr. Moody offered an amendment, which was agreed to, declaring that the act shall not be construed to confer any right on any state, corporation or person, to lands that were excepted in the grants.

The bill was then passed without division.

The McKinley customs administrative bill was then taken up, read and amendments recommended by the committee were agreed to.

Other amendments were submitted by Messrs. Evarts, Dawes and West, and went over without action.

The senate adjourned.

PLAIN WORDS TO THE SPEAKER.

Mr. Mills Denounces His Ruling as an Outrage—The Tariff Debate Begun.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Mr. Pierce, of Tennessee, rising to a question of personal privilege in the house, denied a statement made a few days ago by Mr. Evans, of Tennessee, to the effect that there had been ballot-stuffing in his district. The speaker ruled that this did not present a matter of personal privilege.

Mr. Pierce responded, sharply, that he thought it did.

The speaker said that the gentleman had no right to make such a response to the chair.

Mr. Mills, of Texas—Why did not the speaker stop the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. Evans) the other day?

The speaker—The speaker was not present when that occurred.

Mr. Mills—Then you ought not to stop the gentleman from Tennessee now.

The speaker—That does not follow.

Mr. Mills—It does follow.

The speaker—The chair does not desire to enter into any personal controversy with the gentleman, and he thinks that if the gentleman will reflect he will not persist in the impropriety.

Mr. Mills—I do not see the impropriety, when one gentleman charges another with fraud.

The speaker—The gentleman from Texas will please be in order.

Mr. Mills—I am in order, and the speaker is more out of order than the gentleman from Texas. The ruling is simply an outrage.

The matter was then dropped.

The postoffice appropriation bill was reported and placed on the calendar.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the bill providing for the classification of worsted cloths as woolens.

Pending the debate the committee rose and agreed to the senate concurrent resolution, requesting the president to return the Oklahoma bill for the purpose of having the error rectified.

Consideration of the worsted bill was resumed in committee. The debate was from the beginning a tariff debate and the house was divided on party lines.

Mr. Dingley said that the object of the bill was to make clear the question which had arisen in regard to the classification of worsted goods under the existing tariff and to correct all doubt and misapprehension, and that it was an exact copy of the bill introduced at the last congress by Mr. Breckinridge, of Arkansas, which the gentleman on the other side had incorporated in their tariff bill.

Mr. Bell was opposed by Messrs. Carlisle, Mills, McMillen, Breckinridge, Cummings, Springer and others.

The committee rose and Mr. Dingley moved that further debate on the bill be limited to forty minutes.

Mr. McMillen thought that this would be too short a limit and the consequence was that there were three roll calls before the motion was agreed to.

Another roll call was necessary to resolve the house back in committee.

Debate upon bill again proceeded, the speakers being Messrs. Springer, Wilson, of West Virginia, Breckinridge, McKinley and Cummings.

Mr. Breckinridge offered an amendment providing for free raw wool and a duty of 35 per cent ad valorem on worsted and woolen cloths after the first of October, 1890.

The chairman ruled the amendment out on the point of order that the bill referred to the classification and not to rates of duty.

Mr. Breckinridge appealed from the decision, stating that the bill, though nominally it referred to classification, was really intended to increase the duty on worsted cloths.

The decision was sustained—74 to 36.

Mr. Breckinridge offered an amendment classifying woolen cloths as worsted cloths. Lost.

The committee then rose and reported the bill to the house.

On the passage of the bill no quorum voted, and there being no quorum present, Mr. Dingley, in view of the fact that a republican caucus was called for the evening at 7:30 moved an adjournment, which was carried.

The Restoration of Mwanza.

LONDON, April 29.—Letters from the late missionary Mackay give the details of the fighting which resulted in the restoration of Mwanza. In the first battle the Christians were routed and scattered. Later they were re-inforced, numbering 2,000 guns. They met and defeated the enemy on October 4th, in a short and sharp conflict. The usurping king, Karama, fled. Mwanza is nominally a Roman Catholic. Catholics and Protestants have become united in amicable relations in view of their common danger.

More Anarchists Arrested.

PARIS, April 29.—Twelve anarchists were arrested in this city yesterday. Among those taken into custody were Marquis de Mores; his secretary, M. Mondacq, and M. Prevost, secretary of the hairdressers' union. A number of additional arrests have been made at various places throughout France, of persons who are charged with inciting workingmen to riot and pillage on May 1st.

Protecting Spanish Children.

MADRID, April 29.—A bill has been introduced in the Cortes relative to child labor. The measure prohibits the employment of boys under ten and girls under twelve years of age. It also prohibits children of any age from being employed in mines, circuses or unhealthy industries. The bill secures to youthful workers all the holidays, Sundays and fete days. The maximum of labor is fixed at fifteen hours daily.

PUT ASIDE THE CHAIR

FOR KEMMLER HAS A NEW LEASE OF LIFE.

A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS GRANTED

Which Will Defer the Electrical Experiment Two Months Longer—Perhaps May Do Away With It Entirely.

AUBURN, N. Y., April 29.—Notwithstanding all the elaborate preparations for the electrical execution of W. Kemmler; notwithstanding the ignorant murderer had professed his readiness to meet death; notwithstanding Warden Durston had officially decided upon the time of administering the fatal current, and notwithstanding that most of the authorized witnesses had arrived, the whole proceeding is stopped, and indefinitely postponed.

This postponement has been accomplished by the serving of a writ of habeas corpus, and not in many years has there been so dramatic an illustration in New York state of the tremendous power exerted by that venerable Anglo-Saxon process. Here was a low, brutal, uneducated murderer condemned to die, and waiting only for the order to leave his cell and walk to the fatal chair.

KEMMLER WAS READY.

He had made his will, given away all he was worth in the world—his slate, Bible, testament and puzzle. He had just been baptized into the faith of the Methodist church, and was receiving the last words of his ministerial advisers; his coffin had been made, and he was soon to be placed in it, when, at this last moment, a lawyer unknown to Warden Durston, and not only unknown to the prisoner but even unexpected by him; a lawyer from the distant city of New York, who, in his regular practice has nothing to do with murder cases, suddenly appears and gives the condemned man a new lease of life.

It was as if at a hanging in a county jail at the very moment when the rope was being fastened, you heard an imperious rap at the jail door and a messenger should stride in, bringing a reprieve from the governor. Such, at any rate, was the effect produced here in Auburn today, at the prison and on the streets, when the startling news was announced.

IT WAS ROGER SHERMAN.

The lawyer who caused this commotion was Roger M. Sherman, of New York city. He had never cammunicated with Kemmler, and very likely had never known anything about him except through the newspapers. Just who employed Mr. Sherman would be interesting to know.

It is only by chance that the present step, ostensibly in behalf of Kemmler, counts for anything, for had there not been a little delay in getting the apparatus in final order the criminal would have been shocked into the next world this morning, just after daybreak.

THE TWO STRANGE LAWYERS.

A frequent topic of speculation since the developments of today, has been upon the point as to when and where the writ of habeas corpus proceedings had its inception. This morning's trains brought more of the men who expect to be among the twenty-seven invited to witness the execution. There also appeared on the scene, at the same time, Lawyers Sherman and Henry D. Gailey. New York newspaper men recognized these lawyers and immediately became suspicious. Mr. Gailey is of the law firm of Carter, Hughes & Cravatt, attorneys for the United States Electric Light company, the Brush company, and in some ways for the Westinghouse concerns. Paul D. Cravatt, of the firm, is probably the closest legal adviser of the Westinghouse people, and last winter used to be in constant conference with Mr. Westinghouse, in Windsor hotel. Mr. Gailey stopped here at the Osborne house. Mr. Sherman took a room there also, but did not register, and did everything possible to keep his presence in town unknown. Mr. Gailey apparently had no business with Mr. Sherman. They were not together in the corridors or on the streets. Mr. Gailey declared he had nothing to do with the interference in Kemmler's behalf, and that the Westinghouse company has no interest in the present movement. He had a telegram while here from George Westinghouse. The last part of it read that the Westinghouse people had nothing to do with the stay of proceedings.

Mr. Sherman left here on the 3:05 p. m., and Mr. Gailey on the 7:05 p. m. train.

THE DUBIOUS WARDEN.

Soon after Mr. Sherman arrived in Auburn, he saw Warden Durston and told him that he had with him a writ of habeas corpus which would relieve the warden of the job of putting an electric shock into the murderer. The warden was surprised. He did not know Mr. Sherman and has been pestered so during the last fortnight by electricians and newspaper men in disguise, who, in the eyes of the warden, have been conspirators against him, that he was inclined to doubt the genuineness of Mr. Sherman's statement. Warden Durston told the lawyer—this was soon after 11 o'clock this morning—that any man might show what purported to be a writ of habeas corpus for Kemmler and ask that it be accepted. "I must have some assurance of the regularity of this proceeding," said the warden. Mr. Sherman explained that he had obtained the writ from Judge Wallace on Monday, and that a certified copy would be sent from the clerk of the court at Utica. That was not considered sufficient, and, thereupon, Mr. Sherman went before Supreme Court Judge Dwight, who was sitting in chambers, and made affidavit that he was a lawyer, and had obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Wallace.

THE WRIT RETURNABLE IN JUNE.

The writ was dated yesterday, and was made returnable at Canandaigua on the third Monday in June. Mr. Sherman had also prepared a paper for Kemmler to sign, certifying that Mr. Sherman was authorized to act as his counsel and to apply for the writ. Judge Dwight said this would have to be signed by the prisoner in the presence of a notary public.

Warden Durston was satisfied with these certificates of the regularity of Mr. Sherman's business, and, except to announce the news formally to the newspaper men and to notify Kemmler, the warden's troubles for the day were over. The newspaper men had known, in a general way, about 1 o'clock in the afternoon, what was going on. Their information came from District Attorney Quinley, while at dinner. He said to some of the correspondents:

"Well, there is not going to be any execution, and I am tired, and am going home this afternoon."

As a result, there was a crowd of newspaper men at the prison in quick order to get details.

ANNOUNCING THE NEWS.

It was a quarter past 2 o'clock when Warden Durston stepped from his office into the prison corridor and formally announced that the writ had been served upon him.

This announcement sent the newspaper men scurrying to the telegraph office without waiting for particulars, which they obtained later. Kemmler was not informed of the new turn of his affairs until 3 o'clock, when a notary appeared with the paper creating Mr. Sherman his counsel.

Kemmler signed the papers readily, but manifested no feeling, other than that he was somewhat proud of his ability to read and write.

When Warden Durston was at some pains to explain minutely to Kemmler that he had been given a new lease of life, he merely ejaculated:

"Oh!" just as if the real facts were beginning to dawn upon him. "That makes me feel much easier."

The future of the case will be one of long protracted litigation. Mr. Sherman will not say who retained him. He said at the station, while boarding his train for Syracuse, that he was Kemmler's counsel, and that was all, except that the writ obtained was operative. He said this grimly, and there was something in his look that made the listener feel that Mr. Sherman was in for a determined fight, and that he knew it. The court of appeals of this state passed upon the law and decided favorably upon it merely as it affects the conititution of New York. Now the entire question is thrown into the courts of the United States and a question of the federal constitution is involved. The act of congress of 1878, under which the application is brought, has already been construed by the United States supreme court. It was intended to cover cases when the violations of election laws in the south were alleged. The supreme court in passing upon the case, wherein it claimed that the eighth provision of the constitution applied to state laws, imposing certain punishments, decided that the provision applied to national, and not to state law violations. A number of leading attorneys were quick to declare today that the application will not be successful, as it is clearly within the limits of the decision referred to.

THE CLAIM SET UP.

UTICA, N. Y., April 29.—The application for a habeas corpus for Kemmler set up the claim that the state law providing for the execution of criminals by electricity is in conflict with the constitution of the United States in that the punishment imposed thereby is cruel and unusual, and that thereby the said state abridges the privileges and immunities of him, the said Kemmler to be exempt from cruel and unusual punishment for crime; also that the sentence that he be executed some day within the current week, leaving the warden of the prison to set the time, is unlawful in this, that the judicial function of fixing the time of his death is thereby taken from the court and delegated to an executive officer, or some uncertain substitute, upon undefined and unaccountable cause.

BURNING OF THE "PLANT."

A St. Johns' Steamer Burns to the Water's Edge—Three Lives Lost.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 29.—The steamer H. B. Plant, one of the best known of the St. John's river craft, burned to the water's edge at 4:50 o'clock this morning, in the middle of Lake Beresford, 108 miles from Jacksonville, while on her way to Sanford. Three lives were lost, all colored. The men are supposed to have drowned while attempting to swim ashore. The missing are Elbert Mallory, a waiter; Walter Coleman, a deck-hand and an unknown deck passenger, who boarded the steamer at a way landing. The "Plant" left here Monday afternoon with a heavy miscellaneous freight, eight cabin and ten deck passengers and a crew of twenty-three men. She reached Lake Beresford about 3:30 the following morning. Everything was running smoothly and the night was clear and still. This lake is about one mile wide and stretches west from the entrance to the river. There are several landings on the west shore. The steamers make a wide curve across the lake and then back to enter the river above. The ill-fated boat was about in the middle of the lake on her up river course when the fire first broke out.

CAUSE OF THE FIRE.

The watchman was about to go to bed as day began to break. As he was filling his lamp it overflowed and ignited from the wick, which it is supposed he left burning. He gave the alarm, and several of the deck-hands and firemen rushed in and succeeded in nearly smothering the blaze before much damage was done, but in the scuffles about the little room a five-gallon can of oil was upset and the fluid ran over the floor. It at once ignited and in an instant the room was full of flames. The watchman had his hand severely burned before he could get out.

A stream of blazing oil ran along the floor into the freight dock and under a pile of boxes filled with soap. The pine wood and the combustible contents broke out in a sheet of blaze and smoke. The deck-hands, waiters and firemen fought nobly to extinguish the fire. Second Engineer John Cleaver was on duty, and at once put on extra pressure of steam on the pump. The lines of hose, which were already connected, were dragged forward, and three streams of water put on.

Chief Engineer John Currier had been awakened, and took charge of the engine. He stopped the machinery at once, the wisest thing he could have done.

THE TERRIFIED PASSENGERS.

At the cry of fire and the breaking in of the state room doors, the terrified passengers, scarcely awake, ran frantically into the saloon, clad in their night clothes, only to find the cabin filled with a stifling cloud of black smoke, and forward the red glare and crackling timbers, with the confused din down stairs, were enough to cause a panic, but the presence of mind displayed was remarkable. The cabin passengers had no time to save even their clothing, and men crowded out upon the rear deck in trousers and shirts, and Mrs. Thwaitt, the only lady in cabin, held the hands of her two little boys, who, with nothing on but night clothes, were the coolest of all.

THE BRAVE OFFICERS.

Captain Hall rushed downstairs, but saw that a fight was useless, and returned to the upper deck to launch the boats. The starboard boat aft of the wheel was swung out and lowered a few feet, when a number of negroes, frightened beyond any self-control, leaped into it. In a moment the boat was filled with people, and Captain Hall and Second Engineer Charen were left alone to lower the boat to the water. The ropes tore the flesh from their hands, but they held on with heroic courage and endurance under the tremendous weight. Three colored women and four deck passengers were gotten in the boat and she started for the shore, picking up several people struggling in the water. Captain Hall stuck to his ship until the deck was a mass of flames, and when he was sure that all were off, he jumped overboard and swam ashore behind the boat, preventing the frightened negroes from climbing over the gunwales and upsetting her.

THREE MEN DROWNED.

One passenger was seen to sink while swimming for the shore, and two colored deck-hands, who are known to have jumped overboard, are missing. Nothing was saved. The vessel burned to the water's edge, and then drifted ashore. The passengers were cared for at a farm house. The "Plant" was valued at $40,000, and was owned by the Plant Investment company. The company will at once place an order for a new ship with a Wilmington, Del.,

THE MEMORIAL ORATORS

CONTINUE TO TELL OF THE GLORIES OF THE CONFEDERACY

And the Heroism of the Men Who Gave Their Lives for Freedom and Independence—The Flowers of Spring.

FORT GAINES, GA., April 30.—[Special.]—Fort Gaines crowned herself with glory in paying homage to the brave who fell while wearing the gray.

She laid aside her "trade marks" for the occasion and gave her beauty, her wealth, her loyalty, and chivalry to the memory of the heroes who laid down their lives in defense of the "Lost Cause.' Many participated in the exercises and our people, with one voice, proclaim it the grandest "Memorial Day" we have ever had. The march to the cemetery was headed by the orator of the day, Captain W. E. Wooten, of Albany; then came the Fort Gaines Guards, commanded by Captain F. B. Dillard; next came the confederate veterans, under the command of Colonel C. V. Morris, followed by Professor J. W. Pipkin's school of one hundred pupils, the citizens closing the procession.

CAPTAIN W. E. WOOTEN.

The exercises at the cemetery were deeply interesting and solemnly impressive. A special choir, under the direction of Mr. G. R. Sutlive and Mr. J. E. Paullin, sang "America" and "The Soldier's Grave." These soul-stirring songs were artistically and beautifully rendered, and were followed by a prayer replete with patriotic fervor and zeal.

Mrs. E. C. Cook recited the beautifully sad "Memoriam" with touching elocutionary effect. After this Captain Wooten delivered an address, which in manner, sentiment, eloquence and power, did him much credit, and stamped him a brilliant, silver-tongued southern orator.

After their tasteful decoration, with rare and beautiful floral offerings by loving hands, a volley of musketry was fired by the Fort Gaines Guards over the graves of the lamented heroes.

Previous to the memorial exercises, an incident occurred in the armory of the Fort Gaines Guards worthy of mention. Miss Nannie Peterson, as the organ of the company, in a neat speech, presented Captain Dillard a costly and beautiful sword, appropriately engraved, as an token of their appreciation of him as an officer, and the perfection in drill and discipline attained under his martial training.

The "prize" military companies of the state may look to their laurels. Captain Dillard and his company are on the "double quick" for the front.

Remembered in Talbotton.

TALBOTTON, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Memorial Day was very appropriately observed here. The address by Mr. G. H. Estes was judged by all to be one of the best ever heard. The Southern Rifles, under command of Captain J. M. Heath; the veterans, under command of Captain B. Curly; he ladies of the memorial association, and a great many citizens, all under command of Captain W. E. Ragland, marshal of the day, joined in the line of march to the cemetery, where the ladies decorated the soldiers' graves, and the Southern Rifles fired three volleys.

The Day in Thomasville.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Though a few days late, Memorial Day was appropriately celebrated here today. Hon. John R. Slater, of Valdosta, had been invited to deliver the address, but, owing to the death of his father, he had to decline at the last moment. The military were out in full force this afternoon, and the stores were closed for a few hours. The procession was formed at the intersection of Fletcher and Broad streets, near the confederate monument, in the following order:

Thomasville Guards; South Georgia Cadets; Thomas Hussars; confederate veterans; Ladies' Memorial association in carriages; mayor and members of city council, and city officials, in carriages; citizens; pupils of colleges and schools.

The procession marched up Broad to Jackson, out Jackson to the cemetery, where the decoration of the graves and other exercises took place, after which the line was formed and marched back to the city. Hon. Robert G. Mitchell acted as chief marshal, Captain C. P. Hansell commanding military.

Judge A. G. Hansell, in an impromptu speech, paid an eloquent tribute to the confederate dead and the noble southern women.

The Dead Heroes of Wilkes.

WASHINGTON, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Memorial Day was celebrated here today. At three o'clock the citizens assembled at Floyd's hall, where an address was made by Rev. William M. Harris, pastor of the Baptist church here, and prayer by Rev. Dr. Mixon, of the Methodist church. Mr. Harris is a young man of ability, an orator of great power, who will make his mark. The confederate veterans of the town assembled with their badges. They nearly all belonged to the Irwin Artillery, a company which, under Captain John Wingfield, followed General Joe Lane through all the great battles of Virginia. There are a few survivors of another company from Washington, which was commanded by Captain Henry Colley, the father of Hon. F. H. Colley, but the men of this company were nearly all killed. The appearance of a body of the confederate veterans always excites great criticism among younger citizens. The veterans were escorted by a company, now existing, of younger men, the Irvin Guard. Captain Charles Irvin, at the head of the guard, is a veteran of the artillery, who was in all the great Virvinia battles. He is probably the most popular and influential citizen in Wilkes county. From Floyd's hall the crowd adjourned to the cemetery where the graves of the dead heroes were all adorned with flowers.

The Day in Hartwell.

HARTWELL, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Memorial services were observed in Hartwell on the 26th instant by an unusually large crowd, composed of confederate soldiers and people generally. At 5 o'clock, p. m., Professor S. M. Bobo, marshal of the day, marched the crowd to the cemetery to hear the address of Mr. Jefferson Davis Turner, the orator of the day, and to decorate the graves of the confederate dead. Mr. Turner is a recent graduate of Emory college. He delivered an excellent speech.

Mr. Gilbert Will Speak.

LAGRANGE, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Memorial Day will be observed here tomorrow. Hon. S. P. Gilbert, of Columbus, will be the orator. The LaGrange Light Guards and the Troup Hussars, and the girls from the two colleges will be out in full uniform. After the address, the beautiful flag, made by the ladies of LaGrange, will be presented to the Hussars by Miss Maggie Swanson.

The Annual Episcopal Convention.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—The annual convention of the Episcopal church, of the state of Georgia, will meet at St. Stephen's church, in this city, on May 7th. This convention is composed of some of the ablest divines in the country, and this city will be treated to a feast of eloquence during the convention. Right Rev. Bishop J. W. Beckwith will preside over the deliberations of the body. Every arrangement has been made here for the entertainment of the delegates, and the people of every denomination have thrown open their doors and extended a hearty welcome to the members.

KILLED BY A LIMB.

A Negro Boy Has His Skull Crushed by His Reckless Conduct.

MACON, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—This morning about 11 o'clock, Chief Jones, of the fire department, directed members of the hook and ladder truck to saw off limbs of a tree on Cotton avenue, near the colored Methodist brick church, that were hanging over into the street, and were liable to interfere with the firemen at night. Several negro boys were standing near the tree watching the sawing. They were repeatedly warned to get away.

Presently a large limb that was sawed off fell to the street, and then bounded, and the butt of the limb struck Willie Stewart, aged eleven years, on the head above the left temple. He was hurled away several feet, and fell to the ground unconscious. He was picked up, water thrown into his face, and he revived. He got up, walked about twenty feet, and could go no farther. He was picked up, carried into a house, and in five minutes was dead. His skull had been crushed by the blow. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts, and excused the firemen from all blame in the matter.

CHARTER FOR A NEW LINE.

Wealthy Citizens Will Build Another Electric Road in Macon.

MACON, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Macon already has one good electric line, but there is such a boom in the suburban property and all kinds of real estate is being so rapidly developed that another electric line is imperatively necessary.

The following well-known and wealthy gentlemen have applied for a charter under the name of the "Home Electric Railway."

R. F. Lawton, R. L. Henry, D. J. Baer, W. A. Doody, W. B. Sparks, Peter Harris, A. C. Knapp, W. E. Jenkins, E. J. Willingham, Dr. W. L. Jones, Colonel W. A. Lofton, Mike Daly, J. F. Heard, Jr.

The line will commence at the Wadley monument, at the intersection of Third and Mulberry streets, and will run up Third street to Findlay's foundry, then to Second, and out Second street for several miles. The scheme takes well in Macon.

A Narrow Escape.

MACON, April 29.—[Special.]—Today Arabella, the five-year-old daughter of President W. H. Virgin, of the Capital bank, caught hold of the hind leg of one of Mr. Virgin's carriage horses in the lot at home. The horse kicked back, struck the child near the back of the neck and hurled it some distance away, but, wonderful to say, the child was not badly hurt. Her escape is due to the fact that she was so close to the animal's leg that there was not much force in its kick.

Funeral of Mrs. Wells.

MACON, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—The funeral services of Mrs. George B. Wells were held this morning from her late residence on Cole street. The interment was made in Rose Hill. Rev. Mr. Wardlaw, of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. The pall-bearers were R. A. Ware, T. H. Stone, C. M. Stone, R. W. Jamison, J. L. Henry, and George Burdick. The deceased was a most estimable lady, and leaves many to mourn her death.

Big Land Sale.

MACON, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Nearly two hundred went from Macon to Wellston today to attend a large sale conducted by Collins & Bro., of Macon. Fully six hundred people were in attendance from other points. A great barbecue was served. A great many lots were sold. The sales amounted to between $40,000 and $50,000. Wellston is in Houston county on the Georgia Southern road, a few miles from Macon.

Of these 193 presbyteries, 127 have voted for revision, sixty-one against revision, and five have not voted at all. There are yet twenty presbyteries to be heard from, nearly one-half of which are in foreign lands.

Late Fires.

About half-past two this morning the firemen were called out for a fire beyond the city limits.

It was beyond the church in Bellwood, and they came back without going beyond the limits.

PICNICKERS.

THIS IS PICNIC WEEK—CHILDREN ARE MAKING THE MOST OF IT.

Grant Park Crowded All Day Yesterday—The Hebrew Picnic Today—The T. D. C. Club Yesterday.

School children and honeysuckles.

Grant's park was full of them yesterday, and the happiness of those children was worth traveling a long way to behold.

Every day now for the remainder of the week the various grades of the public schools will picnic out there, all under the care of the teachers.

Besides the school picnics, a number of private picnics are given at the park.

Miss Lula Bell Hemphill invited a number of her friends to a picnic; Miss Clifford O'Quinn entertained her friends in the same way, and Miss Louisa King gave her Sunday school class a day in the woods.

Yesterday, too, the T. D. C. club gave a most delightful picnic at Vining's station. Wurm's orchestra furnished music in the pavilion for the young people to dance.

Those present were, Misses Kate Pendleton, Erkie Richmond, Mattsie Burns, Nellie Van Winkle, Letia Krouse, Katie Cox, Willie Peck, Blanch Willlams, Alice Barber, Lucy Peel, Annie Bell Daniels, Beth Lovejoy, Rebie Lowe, Idoline Edwards, Julia Taylor, Ethel Toy, Lizzie Venable, Marion May, Lilia Venable, and Annie Nash. Messrs. Alfred Fowler, George Adair, Jim Dickey, Miller Brady, Jim Powers, Frank Inman, Jim Boyd, Preston Daniels, Sam Williams, Tom Conklin, Harry Wrenn, Walter Mande, Eugene Schmidt, Will Kiser, George Hoyle, Staff Nash, Williams, Mac Rathburn, John White, Will Tidwell, Tom Peters, Harvey Hill, Walter Kirkpatrick, T. S. Seitzinger, Eugene Sanders and Sam Dean.

The chaperones were Mrs. Pell, Mrs. Williams, Miss Maud Barker and Miss Nellie Inman.

The various railroads are competing to a certain extent for the picnic travel, and picnickers enjoy themselves better and at a smaller cost than ever before.

The Atlanta and Florida, under the hustling, shrewd management of Superintendent Garrett and General Passenger Agent Howard, have secured a number of parties for their new picnic grounds at Maddox Park, about seventeen miles out from Atlanta. They have booked already:

A grand union picnic of all the Hebrew associations in the city on April 30th, today, at Maddox park.

First Baptist Sunday school, May 1st, to Mount Zion camp ground.

Park street, West End, Sunday school, May 1st, Maddox park.

St. Lukes and St. Philips Sunday school, May 3d, to Maddox park.

Walker street Methodist Sunday school, May 3d, to Maddox park.

G. R. P. club, May 6th, to Grant park.

Dixie club, May 10th, to Maddox park.

Grocers' association, May 13th, to Maddox park.

National Association of Machinists, May 17th, to Maddox Park.

Colonel Maddox, E. W. Marsh, J. W. Rucker and Superintendent Garrett went down yesterday to Maddox park to see if anything further could be added to make the grounds attractive. The springs give excellent water. The pavillion is 50x35, the largest anywhere near Atlanta; the grove is beautiful, plenty of shade and nice walks.

Another beautiful picnic place is "Pearl Lake," near Newnan, on the Atlanta and West Point.

That's where the conductors' picnic will be given tomorrow. This promises to be one of largest attended and most successful of the season. The lake is a beauty, and the grounds are nicely shaded and laid off. A number of special attractions have been provided, and the day will doubtless be a very enjoyable one. The train leaves here at 7 o'clock sharp.

The Chautauqua grounds are the most popular, perhaps, on the Georgia Pacific line, and several picnics are being arranged for that place now.

The East Tennessee has two fine picnic grounds, and both are in demand now for projected excursions. One is Powder Springs, twenty-thsee miles out, and the other Kissimee lake, thirteen miles from Atlanta.

Stone Mountain will always be the Georgia road's favorite.

The Richmond and Danville is making no special effort to run picnic excursions, having really no schedule train that fits for the return trip. There are a number of very pretty places on the line near Atlanta—New Holland amongst others—and with a little exertion on the part of the road the Richmond and Danville would be a favorite with picnickers.

It is a week of picnics. The children, of course, enjoy it most keenly, but there are lots of old people that will feel better before next Monday for having spent a day in the woods with the children.]

RIOTS IN AUSTRIA.

Factories Sacked and Their Proprietors Roughly Handled.

VIENNA, April 29.—Many fresh strikes in the textile factories are reported throughout Austria. Some of the factories are guarded by troops. At Frankstadt a riot was commenced by incendiaries. Then the strikers sacked Bumbalca's linen factory and attacked the troops with stones and heavy clubs.

The junior partner of the firm had a narrow escape from lynching. He was in the hands of the mob and would have undoubtedly been hanged, had not his mother learned of his peril and sent a sum of money to buy his freedom from the enraged rioters.

An Odd Fellows' Jubilee.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—The Odd Fellows of Hall and adjoining counties assembled at Mountain View lodge, situated four miles west of this city, and had an excellent celebration. The exercises consisted of ritualistic ceremonies, rendered by Post Grand G. P. Boone, of Gainesville, and Hon. F. T. Davie, of Flowery Branch. Several addresses were delivered, all of which were entertaining and instructive. Hon. W. T. Smith, of Buford, was the orator of the day, and well did he sustain the reputation he has heretofore made as a public speaker.

Troup Court in Session.

LAGRANGE, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Troup superior court convened yesterday, Judge S. W. Harris presiding. The trial of cases was taken up in the afternoon. Several visiting attorneys are in town.

To Hunt along the Satilla.

JACKSON, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—The Jackson Minnow club leaves tonight for a two weeks' fish and hunt on the Satilla. The club is composed of nineteen of our leading citizens, and an enjoyable time is expected.

Delegates to the Sunday-School Convention.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—About two hundred delegates to the meeting of the State Sunday-school association, which is to convene here tomorrow, arrived yesterday.

The congressional committee investigating the timber cases in Alabama, were in session at Mobile yesterday and left last night for Montgomery.

Thirty-eight of the Vienna rioters have been sentenced to terms of imprisonment, varying from eight months to three years.

The president has vetoed the bill to provide for the erection of an extension to the public building at Dallas, Texas.

SAM JONES IN CHARLOTTE.

He Surpasses His Record in the Number of Conversions.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 29.—[Special.]—The Sam Jones's meetings move on with profound interest and increasing crowds. The vast tabernacle is packed three times each day. Two hundred and fifty gave their names to the churches last night, and perhaps a thousand conversions to date. Charlotte is moved from centre to circumference, and the whole city almost is entirely given up to the meetings. He closes here Friday night. Mr. Jones says he never held a more successful meeting.

THE MECKLENBURG DECLARATION.

In his morning sermon in Charlotte on Monday morning Sam Jones said:

That's one thing I've got against your May festival, or whatever you call it. You wind it up with a big ball. I'm again the whole thing. This ain't historical ignorance, it's every day facts. Now you get me to apologize for that, will you? As God is my judge, I've been all over the United States, and I never heard of it before (referring to the Mecklenburg declaration.) Did you, Stuart? Did you? turning to Professor Excell and one other gentleman. All three shook their heads, and the preacher exclaimed: "Thank God, I've got plenty of company. If you can stand up and give money to what'll end in banquets and balls you've got a low idea of what God means when he says: "Be not partakers of other men's sins,"—(a number of 'amens' from the preachers).

At the night service, when Mr. Jones came in, he preceded his sermon with a statement in regard to the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. He said:

I want to call your attention to one thing, and especially the attention of these reporters. On July 4th, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was framed, drafted and signed at Philadelphia. That is a historical fact. On the 20th of May, 1775, a year previous to that, the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence was framed and signed in Mecklenburg county, N. C. That is also a historical fact. Do you catch that? [Applause.] I have always heard that the Declaration of Independence was signed in Philadelphia on the 4th of July, 1776, but I never heard till today, positively, that a Declaration of Independence was signed here on the 20th of May, 1775.

I believe that if I were to tell you that every one of you who believed in the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, if you would come up here and give me your hand, you would be saved, you'd all come, but I don't believe St. Peter would let you in on that.

On the 20th of May next, let us all get where we can save this town. It's a noble sentiment you will celebrate then, but don't let's celebrate it with whisky-drinking and close it with a miserable ball.

LEE IN MARBLE.

Arrival of the Statue in New York—A Description of It.

NEW YORK, April 29.—[Special.]—The bronze equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee—the work of the well-known Parisian sculptor, Antonia M. Mercie—arrived here today in the Wilson line steamship "Othello," from Havre. The "Othello," in consequence of her wharf being occupied by another steamer, could not dock today, but will do so tomorrow afternoon. The statue will then be shipped to Richmond, Va., where it will be unveiled with appropriate ceremonies on May 29th.

All the custom formalities about the admission of the statue free of duty have been amiably adjusted and there will be no delay in shipping it to its destination.

The statue has been for months on exhibition in Paris, where it won the admiration of thousands of Americans. Lee is represented in the full uniform of his rank, seated upon a horse. The statue is considered by those who saw it on exhibition a master piece. It is about twenty-one feet high, twenty-three feet across and weighs about eight tons.

The statue is consigned to the order of Governor McKinney, of Virginia, who will, through his representatives, make ready for its unveiling on the designated day. It is estimated that the statue will cost $17,000.

The Confederate Veteran camp, of New York, an organization composed of men who served in the army and navy of the confederate states, held a special meeting at the New York hotel tonight, and completed arrangements to go to Richmond, Va., on May 29th, to attend the unveiling of the Lee statue.

Red River Out of Its Banks.

NEW ORLEANS, April 29.—A Times-Democrat, Paris, Tex., says: Reports from Red river are to the effect that it is higher than it has been for forty years. There was thirty-four feet of water at Arthur City yesterday morning. Several houses are reported to have been swept away and the occupants of others had to move out in boats. The loss cannot be estimated now, but it will be very great.

A Republican Caucus.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—For the third time in ten days the republican representatives were in caucus tonight to consider the arrangement of an order of business before the house. The principal subject of discussion was the McComas bill to regulate in part, time and manner of holding elections for representatives, commonly known as the anti-gerrymandering bill, but nothing was determined upon.

Bull's Sarsaparilla has entirely cured me of rheumatism from which I suffered for three long years. I have now been free from pain for several months and I have no doubt the cure is permanent.—Isham Bridges, Uniontown, Ky.

You Need It Now

There is nothing of greater importance to you than your health. At this season nearly every one is feeling more or less weak, tired and miserable, a condition naturally following the unhealthful winter, the epidemic of "the grip," pneumonia, typhoid fever, etc. This should be overcome at once, as it indicates a low health-tone and special susceptibility to disease.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the ideal Spring Medicine and Blood purifier. It is peculiarly adapted to thoroughly purify and renovate the blood, overcome that tired feeling, and build up the whole system. If you have not yet taken your spring medicine, do not delay longer, but take Hood's Sarsaparilla Now.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla for several years, and I consider it to be one of the best of tonics, and blood purifiers. As a medicine for use in the spring to tone up the entire system, it is unexcelled. I take pleasure in recommending it as an excellent remedy." G. A. OTTMANN, Rector Church of the Good Shepherd, Yorkville, South Carolina.

The chief reason for the marvelous success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is Merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has made it the medicine first in the confidence of our countrymen, and given to Hood's Sarsaparilla a popularity and sale greater than that of any other blood purifier.

The Spring Medicine

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has fine sales in this county. I use this medicine in my practice when and wherever an alternative is needed, and recommend it in preference to any other, as I consider it far superior." W. K. GRAYSON, M. D., Youngsport, Bell County, Texas.

The Spring Medicine

"I can hardly estimate the benefit received from using Hood's Sarsaparilla. Last summer I was prostrated for nearly three months, from poor circulation of the blood, as I thought. This spring the same symptoms returned, and I concluded to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have not lost one day from my work, and feel like a different person." R. J. RILEY, Business Manager Gazette, St. Clairsville, Ohio.

FOUND NOT GUILTY.

DAN HALL TRIED FOR THE EAST POINT RIOT.

The Wyly & Greene Case Before Judge Marshall J. Clarke—John L. Conley Given More Time to Pay His Fine.

The second of the men indicted for the East Point riot was tried and found not guilty yesterday.

Dan Hall was the defendant on trial.

In the course of the trial it was developed that in finding its true bills the grand jury had viewed Mr. Hall as the leader of the riot. Or rather he was charged with handling the whip that did the whipping of the negroes, while the balance of the men indicted assisted in the proceedings.

The other defendants felt as much elated at the verdict in yesterday's trial as Mr. Hall himself. They think they see their way clear to dismissal or acquittal.

Mr. E. C. Bruffey, who was tried on the same charge last week, was given a verdict by Solicitor Hill. Yesterday it was the jury that formed a like service for Mr. Hall.

There are seven other indictments against Mr. Bruffey and Mr. Hall for whipping the East Point negroes. A separate indictment was found by the grand jury for each negro that had been whipped.

Arnold Jones, an old negro farmer, was the one for the infliction of whose stripes Mr. Hall was put upon trial yesterday.

When put upon the stand he told how the crowd of white men, accompanied by a single negro, came to his house near East Point, and when he came to the door how they took him out and whipped him on the naked skin until the blood came.

The old man did not recognize any of the men who did the whipping, but thought the voice that did most of the talking sounded very much like that of Mr. Dan Hall, whom he had heard talking in the courtroom.

When they first took him out, the witness said he thought he was going to be killed, and when he found it was to be only a thrashing, he felt thankful.

Jones testified to having heard several other whippings that night.

Mr. Blount, of Blount & Hill, manufacturers at East Point, told of meeting the defendant near the East Point depot the night of the trouble, and of having said to him and others that he did not think their services would be needed to protect the town from the negroes, as the disturbance was over.

Mr. Glen Waters and M. M. Folsom, who went to East Point to report the trouble for THE CONSTITUTION closed the testimony for the state.

Mr. Folsom saw Dan Hall then, but could not swear that he was one of the whippers. He testified that he recognized the defendant in a crowd coming from the direction in which one of the whippings had occurred.

The defense introduced T. P. Aldridge, Tap Holt, Bob Caldwell and Will Caldwell, who are under indictment on the same charge as Mr. Hall and Mayor Pratt of East Point.

Their testimony was to the effect that the defendant had had nothing to do with the whipping.

After their evidence, the defendant made his statement. He had gone to East Point at the request of Mayor Pratt to help protect the town from an attack by the ngroes, but was innocent of using violence towards innocent negroes as charged in the bill of indictment.

At the afternoon session of court the case went into the hands of the attorneys.

Colonel Abbott Cox opened for the defense in a splendid speech. He was ably seconded by Mr. John Clay Smith, who made one of the best arguments of his career in Atlanta. It was full of eloquence and was heard with marked interest and attention.

Solicitor Charlie Hill was assisted in the prosecution by Mr. William P. Hill, of Mayson & Hill.

Both made forcible arguments, the solicitor being one of the wittiest—and at the same time sarcastic to a degree—ever heard in the courthouse.

In the common vernacular, the solicitor's speech was immense. He touched up the other defendants in a style that kept the courtroom in a roar, and the drubbing he gave the opposing lawyers was something amazing.

It was an all-round fight between the lawyers—one of the liveliest in some time—and the solicitor got the best of it.

Judge Clarke's charge was brief, occupying only about five minutes.

The jury was out a little less than an hour, when the verdict of not guilty was handed in.

Before Judge Marshall J. Clarke yesterday there was a very interesting case.

It was a big legal fight over the continuance of the case of Bernheim Bros. & Uri and others against Wyly & Greene and the Lowry Banking company. The argument of the motion took up nearly the entire day.

Judge Clarke finally granted it, and the case was continued until the first day of the next term.

The case involves about $20,000 in assets, and claims aggregating in the neighborhood of $40,000. It grows out of the failure of Wyly & Greene several years ago, and the issue on trial is the setting aside of a $15,000 mortgage held by the Lowry Banking company on the stock at the time of the failure. This mortgage is contested on the ground that it had never been put on record previous to the failure, and because of their failure by the Lowry Banking company to put others on notice of the indebtedness of the firm to them, other houses sustained great losses by continuing to ship Wylie & Green goods, under the belief that they were perfectly solvent.

Johnson & Johnson appeared for Wylie & Green, and Julius Q. Brown and Thompson, Candler & Thompson for the Lowry Banking company.

The various creditors were represented by Judge John L. Hopkins & Sons, Abbott & Smith, N. J. and T. A. Hammond, W. R. Brown and J. Carroll Payne.

It was a fine combination of legal talent, and the points of law were closely and vigorously drawn.

$20,000 FOR FOUR FINGERS.

Hannah Lawrence yesterday filed suit in the city court against the Beck Steam Laundry company for fifteen thousand dollars damages.

She sets forth that she was, on April 7, 1890, an employe of the defendant, and that on that day four fingers of her right hand were badly mashed on a machine used in the laundry, which was allowed to become in disrepair by the defendant.

The plaintiff further alleges that her hand was so severely injured that the fingers had to be amputated, which greatly impairs her capacity for work.

George H. Lawrence, the husband of Hannah Lawrence, also brings suit on the same ground for five thousand dollars damages, alleging the loss of his wife's services in her household duties.

THE CONLEY CASE.

According to the ruling of the supreme court John L. Conley was to have appeared before Judge Van Epps Monday, ready either to pay his fine or to place himself in the hands of the sheriff.

The judgment had not been signed up when the matter was called up, and on account of this irregularity Conley's attorneys insisted upon a continuance until next week. This was granted, and next Monday Mr. Conley will appear before Judge Van Epps with his six thousand dollar fine in his pocket, or in lieu thereof deliver himself over to the custody of the sheriff.

SUITS FILED.

Mary Mooney has entered proceedings for divorce from William B. Mooney on the ground of drunkenness and cruel treatment. The couple were married in 1875 and lived together until March 20th last, when the petitioner quit her husband to evade the cruelties she avers he heaped upon her.

The Gate City Oil company yesterday filed complaint to compel the Georgia Pacific Railway company to turn over to it a certain carload of cotton seed, valued at $500, which the plaintiff claims.

Maria Jones sues the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railway company for $20,000 damages for the death of her son, Will Clark, who, she avers, received his death injuries by reason of the defendant's gross negligence. Clark was a brakeman, and the petition recites that he was knocked off a freight car between Donalds and Broswell, Polk county, on February 3d last; dying from the effects of the fall two months later.

Miss Sallie E. Haynes brings suit to receive $4,500 damages from the Western Union Telegraph company, for alleged failure to correctly deliver a message sent to her announcing the death of her husband. On account of this she was deprived of the privilege of performing the last rites at his death bed, or of attending his burial, the body being interred before the news of his death reached her.

Mark Freeman, through his attorney, has entered suit for $4,000 damages against the Georgia Pacific railway company for the mashing of his thumb, which he claims was due to the use of broken apparatus on a freight car that he was attempting to couple.

Mr. John A. Murphy, James P. McVey, E. A. Massa, Captain Nunan and James Murphy have purchased the beautiful site opposite the famous Floral Bazar of Mr. F. Wackendorf and Lambert's gardens on West Simpson street. All will erect handsome residences at once; naming same, and will hereafter be known as Clifton Heights.

Col. Geo. W. Adair sold eleven handsome lots on Park and Lee streets, West End, yesterday afternoon.

The property was platted by the West End Improvement company. It is in a desirable part of West End, and has been in demand for a long time, consequently the lots went easily and quickly.

Lot No. 1, corner Park and Lee street, was bought by Mr. W. A. Russell for $3,474.

Nos. 2 and 3 on Park by Hughes & Law for $1,050, and W. F. Wesley for $1,150. Nos. 4 and 5 on the same street were sold to a non-resident for $4,375.

Mr. A. J. Anderson secured No. 6, on Park street, for $1,555, and 7 and 8 went to W. E. Johnson for $1,280 and A. P. Stewart for $1,280.

F. B. Baker bought Nos. 1, 2 and 3, on Lee street, at $3,450.

The sale aggregated $17,614.

Colonel Adair will go to Sheffield, Ala., to hold a big sale for the Sheffield Iron and Coal company on the 7th, 8th and 9th of May next.

In 1884 he conducted the first sale of Sheffield lots, selling forty acres of land for over $300,000. The property cost the purchasers $30 an acre.

When Colonel Adair conducted this sale there was no railroad nearer than four miles to the place, and not a house in the now flourishing city of 6,000 people had been built.

It will be interesting to note the figures at next month's sale.

Colonel Adair will be loaded with them when he gets back.

MANAGER GLEASON BACK.

Ready to Resume Work with Manager Harwell at the Old Stand.

Business brisked up yesterday at the Doran & Wright stand on Broad street, and everything looked serene after the flurry of last week.

Captain John Harwell, the one of the two managers that staid in Atlanta to weather the unpleasantness, looked happier considerably than he has for several days past.

"Yes," he said, "we're sailing right along now. Business is fine, and picking up in great shape. We started this morning just as usual again, and have done a couple of hundred shares of business today.

"We never suspended and don't expect to. Every man we have owed will get dollar for dollar. Two of our checks held by the Neal Loan and Banking Co., amounting to $3,500 were paid in New York, and so with every dollar of the firm's indebtedness."

"What about Mr. Gleason?"

"He's coming back tonight, and will be here all right at work in the morning. I think he was uneasy because of the way they persecuted Sid Phelan. He went to Greenville to stay a few days, leaving here Sunday morning."

So this morning, with both managers on hand and business going on as usual, the stand on Broad street will look like it used to.

A Symptom is Not a Disease.

The suffering rheumatic would look incredulous if told his rheumatism was not a disease. Also the sufferer from catarrh, with his sore, tender and exuding nostrils, if told catarrh was but a symptom. Yet such it is, in fact. The disease from which a man or woman suffers who has rheumatism or catarrh is blood poison. How did the poison get into the blood? From various causes; colds, exposure, indigestion, contagion, etc., may have been the cause. No matter, your blood is impure, and you will suffer just so long as this great stream of life is clogged with particles of impurity. Then why not strike at the root or cause of your rheumatism or catarrh by annihilating the enemies of good health that exist in your blood. This can be done by using Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla. Its alterative virtue will quickly cleanse the blood of every impurity, and thousands have thus by its use been permanently cured of rheumatism and catarrh. No other remedy in the world acts so powerfully and yet so harmlessly as a blood purifier. It conquers as if by magic all tendency to eruptive, irritating and painful ailments.

KISSES.

(A la Romeo and Juliet.)

A prominent physician calls the kiss "an elegant disseminator of disease." He says, "fever is spread by it, so are lung diseases." He maintains that if the kissing custom were driven out of the land "it would save one-tenth of one per cent. of human lives" which are now sacrificed. Out upon the gnarled and sapless vagabond! Evidently kisses are not for such as he, and the old fox says the grapes are sour. Let him devote himself to making our women healthy and blooming that kisses may be kisses. This can surely be done by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription which is simply magical in curing diseases peculiar to females. After taking it for a reasonable length of time there will be no more irregularity, backache, bearing-down sensations, nervous prostration, general debility and kindred ailments. "Favorite Prescription" is an invigorating, restorative tonic and as a regulator and promoter of functional action at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, it is a perfectly safe remedial agent and can produce only good results. It is carefully compounded, by an experienced and skillful physician and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. It imparts strength to the whole system. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggist, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been faithfully carried out for many years.

ATLANTA, GA., APRIL 30, 1890.

The Kemmler Sensation.

At the last moment a shrewd lawyer got in his work, and secured a stay of proceedings for Kemmler, the murderer condemned to die by electricity for the murder of his wife.

Kemmler, had little in his history to interest the general public. All his life the fellow has been brutal and stupid, and a sot with an abnormal capacity for whisky. He killed his mistress under circumstances of peculiar atrocity. At any other time the man would have been hustled off to the gallows, and very little would have been said about him. But the fact that he was marked out as the first victim for New York's electrical death apparatus gave him distinction.

Even the prison officials have treated the murderer with unusual kindness. They have permitted him to wear his every-day costume, and have fed him on dainties. Naturally, his spiritual condition has been looked after. When he entered the prison he knew nothing of Christ, but under the teachings of his kind instructors he progressed so far that he was heard to lament his crime, and express his belief that he had been forgiven.

Nothing was too good for the man who was to die by the new-fangled death machine. His education was cared for until he became so accomplished that he could write his name. His mental and spiritual progress increased the interest felt in him, and his taking off will be regretted by some who were brought in daily contact with him. After undergoing a change of heart, it seems pretty hard to harness the repentant sinner to a machine to be killed by lightning.

When the novelty of the thing wears off people will care no more about it than they do for an ordinary hanging. After all, execution by electricity is neither brutal nor picturesque enough to attract much attention. It is a quick and easy way of disposing of a criminal, and much too good for such a ruffian as Kemmler.

The Butterworth Bill.

We have already alluded to the probable effect of the Butterworth bill, which is intended to prevent speculation in options and futures. The intention is good, but the bill seems to be a blundering affair from first to last. As it now stands, instead of preventing speculation, it will simply result in crippling the southern cotton-growers by narrowing their markets, and placing them at the mercy of the European buyers and speculators.

We have sometimes in these columns playfully alluded to the big exchanges of the country as the big bucket-shops; but the truth is that these exchanges deal in futures, whereas the small, irresponsible concerns, scattered over the country, deal in "options," "puts" and "calls," and it is through the medium of these concerns that speculation has become so widespread and injurious.

We are discussing this Butterworth bill purely from a southern standpoint, and for the purpose of calling the attention of southern farmers to some of the results of the measure should it become a law. We are not particularly interested in the produce exchanges, and will not, therefore, discuss the effect the Butterworth bill will have on their operations, or on the producers of grain and pork. The interesting fact about it is the certainty that it will work injuriously so far as the southern cotton-growers are concerned.

There is not a legitimate cotton exchange in the country that deals in, or permits its members to deal in "options," those fruitful sources of speculation. An option is simply a wager on the condition of the market, one party to the transaction betting they will be higher at a certain date, another betting that they will be lower, and the "dealer" in the middle charging commissions to both. This is the option business, which is speculation and nothing else. It is safe to say that no exchange or board of trade in the United States recognizes such transactions in any way, shape or form.

There is a wide misconception of the term "futures," and the Butterworth bill embodies in a blundering way the popular error. All transactions in futures, in the legitimate cotton exchanges, are based on written contracts, and it is a part of the duty of the exchange to enforce them. We may take the rules of the New Orleans cotton exchange as an example. These rules provide that "all contracts for the future delivery of cotton shall be binding on members and of full force and effect until the quality and quantities of cotton specified in such contracts shall have been delivered, and the price specified in such contracts shall have been paid." In other words, actual quantities, actual descriptions, actual prices and actual dates are provided for, and no element of speculation, such as runs riot in the option business, enters into that transaction.

It is reasonable to believe that the buying and selling of futures in a legitimate way stimulates the price of cotton and prevents fluctuations that would otherwise be a prominent and an embarrassing feature of the cotton market. It is generally conceded that Europe, which takes seventy-five per cent of the cotton crop, regulates the prices paid therefor. Couple this important fact with the equally important fact that the bulk of the cotton crop is thrown on the market from the 1st of September to the 1st of January, and the ticklish nature of the situation may be appreciated. The tax on those who buy and sell cotton for future delivery will be prohibitory so far as the United States are concerned, if the Butterworth bill is made a law. Such transactions, however, will still be carried on in Liverpool, London, Bremen and Havre, and the cotton-producers will be at the mercy of the foreign exchanges. With the restraining influence of the American cotton exchanges out of the way, is it not fair to presume that the foreign exchanges would succeed in depressing prices? This would be an easy matter, especially during the four months when the bulk of the crop is pushing its way to market.

We are getting heartily tired of the antics of the republican reformers. It seems they can introduce no measure that doesn't strike a blow at the south. The Conger lard bill is a blow aimed at southern interests, and now comes Mr. Butterworth with his bill aimed at the southern cotton-grower. A measure to prevent speculation would be a very good thing, but surely such a measure need not attack the prosperity of southern farmers.

How About Water?

The opinion of City Attorneys Goodwin and Anderson, on the water bond question, will be read with much interest, and the result of their investigation will be a disappointment to the city, as our people are impressed with the immediate necessity of increasing the city's water supply.

Messrs. Goodwin and Anderson, both careful students and painstaking officials, having investigated the question thoroughly, officially report to the mayor that the validity of bonds issued by authority of the special election would, at least, be doubtful, and, of course, the city cannot afford to offer bonds about which there is the slightest question concerning authorization.

It is true that the matter could be carried to the supreme court, and it is even probable that that tribunal would sustain the issue of bonds made bp authority of the special election, as it is by no means certain that a proper construction of the code requires two-thirds of the registration, instead of two-thirds of the vote actually polled, to warrant an issue of bonds. The settlement of the question hinges on the meaning of the term "qualified voters," two-thirds of which are required to authorize new municipal bonds. If the registration list is the qualified vote, then there is no doubt but that two-thirds of the registration would be necessary. But, if the qualified voters are those who, having a right to vote, exercise that privilege, then only two-thirds of the vote polled would be required to create a bonded debt.

The city attorneys suggest that, instead of carrying the matter to the supreme court, another election be ordered, and that it be fixed for the date of the next regular municipal election, which takes place on the first Wednesday in December. Such a course would delay the settlement of the question but a short while, though it is probably the safest way.

But this does not make it any the less imperative that Atlanta must do something to increase her water supply.

Something must be done, and with as little delay as possible.

The Coyote and the Cavalier.

Editor Shepard, of the New York Mail and Express, will be a raving madman before he finishes his new crusade against the south.

Shepard now wants the Arlington hotel at Washington to change its name to "The Washington," because its present name is that of the Lee estate purchased by the government for a national cemetery. He says:

Two-thirds of the name—the last two syllables—already belong to "The Washington, and all that is needed is to wash the first syllable—purify it from gravestones and death—and the transformation will be achieved from sickness to health, from a cemetery for the dead to an inn for the living, from treason to patriotism, from a hateful monument to a murderer of mankind to a grateful one to the father of his country.

The wretched name of Lee has been a gloomy, conceited, disloyal shadow in our national history, wherever petted and courted and trusted, and it is time to have it forever obliterated.

Charles Lee was a coward and was halted by Washington in an eventful battle of the revolution, just as defeat was settling down upon him, and victory was rescued from his angry incompetence.

Arthur Lee was the secret maligner and traducer of Franklin, the country's great minister to all Europe.

And Robert E. Lee was the arch military traitor who seized his mother by the throat and did his best and worst to strangle her.

Editor Shepard should read the history of his country. Charles Lee was not a member of the American Lee family, and he was not a coward—he was a brave soldier of fortune. Nor did Arthur Lee secretly attack anybody. He made a bold and fearless fight every time.

The editor of the Mail and Express says nothing about Richard Henry Lee, Francis Lightfoot Lee and "Light-horse" Harry Lee. Are those shining names "wiltched" in his eyes? This jackal warfare upon a dead hero, whose name is honored in every land, is a strange thing. There must be insanity in it. The coyote should never attack the dead cavalier. There are depths of cowardice and infamy to which even the coyote should not descend.

But we can afford to leave Shepard where Vanderbilt, his father-in-law, placed him. Said the old man of him one day: "He is more kinds of a d—d fool than anybody I know!"

Work of the Weekly Editors.

It is interesting to scan the columns of the Georgia newspapers—notably our weekly exchanges—and watch, through them, the industrial growth of the counties they represent. THE CONSTITUTION has frequently made editorial mention of their work, but it deserves, and receives, more than casual comment and endorsement. It is safe to say that the weekly press has done more work for Georgia in this year of grace and golden achievement than in any past year of her history, not that they had in any degree slighted her interests before, but with one accord they turned a bright leaf in the book of progress and made a New Year's resolution to work for Georgia as they had never worked in all the busy past, and right faithfully have they kept it, and right bravely have they blazed the way for the people and laid the industrial lines in pleasant places.

The boom which they inaugurated with the rosy dawn of 1890 has never flagged; like a thing of life it moves from place to place, gathering strength and enthusiasm as it goes, and all the bells of progress are ringing through the awakened and wondering land. Here is an editor in the backwoods summoning the people to the industrial feast; hear him: "Come up and subscribe to the new railroad;" "A car load of capitalists expected on the next train;" "We must have that oil mill;" "Great land sale tomorrow;" "Twenty-five thousand dollars subscribed for a new hotel;" "Real estate advancing;" "Great meeting of the citizens tomorrow to decide on a big factory;" and, with that instinct for business which characterizes the editor everywhere, the closing admonition, "Now is the time to subscribe!" And it certainly is.

Just such ringing headlines as the above appear in our exchanges from week to week, and they show how bravely and persistently the editors are working for the good of the people and the state. Their efforts should be appreciated; the people should sustain them by their hearty support and encouragement, and we believe they are doing so very generally. The weekly editors are giving their all to the upbuilding of their sections, and their work speaks for itself and is a part of the wealth and glory of the state.

The State Bar Association.

The approaching annual meeting of the Georgia Bar association at Augusta on the 15th of May promises to be an occasion of great interest, pleasure and profit to the members of the profession.

Our Georgia Bar association was organized about seven years ago, and has been successfully conducted from the start. The object is the elevation of the legal profession by fixing and maintaining a high standard of ethics. This is a benefit to the public, because our lawyers have always been at the front in peace or war, and they are active factors in legislation and morals.

These meetings will consider remedial measures tending to expedite judicial proceedings, and will have the wide field of law reform always in view.

At the Augusta meeting Ex-Speaker Carlisle will be one of the distinguished speakers. Judge Richard H. Clarke will present a history of the code of 1861, and as our state took the lead in codification, setting an example that was followed by the other states, it goes without saying that the paper will be full of interesting points.

A notice of the meeting will be found in another column.

WARD MCALLISTER has written a book on "Society as I Found It." Ward is a daring explorer. He found New York society, and then discovered other things that he will not put in a book.

THE New York World is now writing up the career of Quay's man, Delamater, who is the republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania.

THE census takers threaten to explore the backyards of the country.

WE observe that Quay continues to cultivate silence in regard to the charges made against him. He also continues to be the confidential friend and adviser of Benjamin Harrison. It is a very pretty combination.

IN Ohio election days are holidays, consequently the people of that state are frolicking half the year.

SULLIVAN has whipped everybody except J. Barleycorn, sr. J. B. out-slugs all the sluggers.

THE Philadelphia Press is at great pains to show that the republicans will pass the McKinley tariff bill. Perhaps it will now try to prove that a hog will eat slops.

IT is whispered that some one has threatened to kill Editor Godkin, of New York. It is also whispered that Editor Godkin is loaded for bear. No one knows when hostilities will break out.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

THE Chicago Herald says: "Jesse Pomeroy, the 'boy fiend,' continues to be an interesting subject to students of crime. Dr. Charles Swain has just published a paper on 'Criminals,' in which Jesse's daily life and habits are described. It seems that the famous murderer has experienced a great change of nature, and that he desires to do something now which shall place him on record as a benefactor of humanity. Much of his time is spent in perfecting a so-called 'self-sharpening lead pencil.' The device is not clearly explained in Dr. Swain's pamphlet, but if its name is any index to its purpose, Jesse is on the right track. A self-sharpening lead pencil that would work would be a blessing indeed."

THE time and labor and money wasted in labor strikes and processions would make times easier with the working classes if properly utilized.

IT was reserved for the federal supreme court to deal prohibition the deadliest blow it has ever received. Chief-Justice Fuller's decision that a dealer in a prohibition state may import liquor and sell it in its original packages, even if these packages are as small as a single flask, completely smashes the prohibitory system of such states as Maine and Iowa. The only way to establish complete prohibition anywhere in this country is to secure congressional legislation that will make it effective, and it is not likely that congress will be on that line for a long time to come.

GLIMPSES OF GEORGIA.

Editor Lanier is making some notable improvements in the Effingham Chronicle. It will soon appear in a bran new dress.

Mr. Virgil Fagan, a prominent citizen of Fort Valley, is arranging to publish a new paper at that place to be known as the Fort Valley Leader.

Mr. T. A. Webster, formerly business manager of the Rome Tribune, has assumed a similar position on the Brunswick Times. The Times has now in its employ three men who once made the Tribune sparkle. And the Times is "getting there."

The Americus Times of Sunday consisted of eight newsy pages. It is as complete a little daily as one would wish to see, and Editor Brumby is doing excellent work on it.

Said the doctor, as sadly he took his stand
By the editor's dying bed,
"He's nearing the happy, happy land—
One minute and he'll be dead!
He is going away to that better clime,
Where he'll meet with the rest of his tribe;
Ah! weep, good friends, for now is the time—"
Gasped the editor: "To subscribe!"

Editor Mosely, of the Rome Alliance Herald, was in Atlanta yesterday. He came on business, and before he left purchased a steam outfit for the Herald, which will make its presses spin in future. His large and constantly increasing circulation made this necessary.

A Georgia editor thus admonishes his subscribers: "The man who said he could edit this paper better than we could is now splitting rails for a living, and the man who said we would run it in the ground before six months has been run out of the community. So, take warning!"

PEOPLE HERE AND THERE.

BERNHARDT.—Sarah Bernhardt will reach New York in the fall, and make a tour around the world.

HICKS.—James Hicks, aged eighty-five, has just been arrested in Indiana for stealing, after spending forty-five years in prison.

RIVES.—Amelie Rives has recovered from a serious illness.

TOURGEE.—Albion W. Tourgee has been restored to the pension roll, with $2,500 back pay.

THAT NEW DEPOT.

SEVERAL PLANS HAVE BEEN DISCUSSED BY TERMINAL PEOPLE.

But No Decision Has Been Reached—The Several Sites That Have Been Mentioned—The Two Most Likely.

The West Point terminal officials will soon reach some decision about Atlanta's new union depot.

It is understood that engineers have been quietly at work for some time past surveying the different pieces of ground owned by the company and that plats of these with plans for a depot have been submitted to the officers of the company.

Several sites have been discussed.

Among these are: The triangle right at the head of Alabama street; the site where the Central freight depot now stands; the old rolling mill site; and the Georgia railroad yards at the foot of Alabama street.

The Mitchell street site and the triangle at the head of Alabama street are considered by local railroad men as the most desirable.

One plan talked of is for a two-story depot fronting Mitchell street, with the tracks entering on a grade like they do in the present depot.

Another plan—and this seems to be most popular—is of a two-story building at the head of Alabama, with a viaduct approach from that street. The tracks would enter on the first or ground floor, while the approach for the public would be over this viaduct to the second floor, upon which would be the ticket offices, waiting rooms, and so forth. This would be on the same general plan as the Grand Central depot at Cincinnati.

It will not be long before the matter is decided and work will be begun on Atlanta's new depot.

It will be one to be proud of.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

—The Calhoun Courier states, on good authority, that Hon. C. B. Wooten will not be in the race for congress.

—The Darien Gazette says that the Georgia republicans who are laying their plans for congress have as much chance of going there as they have of going to heaven.

—The Eatonton Messenger figures out the race in the eighth district in this way: Lawson will carry Putnam, Greene, Oglethorpe and Morgan, fourteen votes; Colley will carry Wilkes, Hart, Madison, Franklin and Elbert, twelve. This leaves Hancock, Clark and Oconee doubtful, eight. The candidacy of Mr. Foster may change this count. The Athens Ledger believes that the announcement of the latter gentleman will help Mr. Colley.

The Legislativt Race in Troup.

LAGRANGE, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—The Graphic will say editorially in today's issue: Our people are not doing much work now in the way of politics; but they are thinking hard and looking around for the best men to represent the county in the next legislature. It seems to be generally understood that Mr. Seth Tatum is the choice for the senate, and from information we gather Messrs. W. H. C. Jones and Richard Hudson will be brought to the front for the lower house. Other names have also been suggested, but the above gentlemen seem to have the bulge up to date. All of them are good men, progressive and intelligent farmers, and alive to the best interests of our county and section. Troup county would certainly honor herself in honoring these gentlemen.

The attendance of teachers from all parts of the state is very large, and at tonight's meeting more than 100 teachers were present. The attendance of home people was also large, and there was scarcely standing room in the opera house.

The speeches were all eloquent and full of interest, and at their conclusion Professor Charles Lane, of Atlanta, delivered a very refreshing and highly amusing lecture on the history and analysis of laughter.

DAVIS CHALLENGES HARPER,

And the Latter Declines to Receive It—A New Phase.

ELBERTON, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Rumors have been ripe around Elberton, for the last twenty-four hours, relative to a meeting between Hon. Phil W. Davis and Mr. J. L. Harper. From the best information obtainable, Mr. Davis sent a challenge, last night, to Mr. Harper, by Mr. S. L. Carter, requesting Mr. Harper to name a friend and answer this morning. Mr. Harper replied, declining a meeting for reasons that your correspondent could not learn. This was conveyed to Mr. Davis, who, on receipt of it, stated that he would consult his counsel, Messrs. Rucker & Barrow, of Athens, as to what course he would pursue.

HE SECURED HIS BRIDE

And at the Same Time an Irate Mother-in-Law.

ALBANY, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—A little romance has just been enacted in Lee county. For some time Boysey Bailey, a young railroad man possessing considerable Albany property, has been smitten with the charms of Mrs. Minchen's daughter, Alice, who resided with her mother at their farm house in Lee. For some reason the stern parent forbid the match, being deaf to all appeals. Young Bailey at last tired of wooing and waiting, and the other day he stole his lovely bride away from the parental roof tree and hastening to Squire C. B. Avery they were made one. Thus their little romance ended happily for both.

A ROW IN BUTTS.

One Negro Killed and Another Badly Hurt. The Murderer Escapes.

JACKSON, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—A row occurred between about twenty negroes while they were returning from prayer-meeting at Fincherville on Sunday night, in which pistols, clubs, rocks, etc., were used promiscuously. When the smoke cleared away Sam Fraly was lying on the ground dead, shot through the left breast. Coroner T. F. Clark was notified, and an inquest was held on yesterday, and Frank Thornton was arrested on a warrant issued by the coroner as the party who did the killing. He says he was knocked down and knows nothing of who shot Fraly. He is in jail.

A Lynching May Follow.

VALDOSTA, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—At Jasper, thirty miles south of Valdosta, on the Georgia Southern and Florida road, last night about 1 o'clock, two negroes entered the Georgia Southern and Florida depot and called for a ticket. While Mr. Haley Frink, the night telegraph operator, was preparing the ticket, one of the negroes shot him through, and then they robbed the office and fled. Young Frink is in a dying condition. One of the negroes was captured at Melrose this morning, and the other is being hotly pursued. It is rumored here today that Jasper will likely witness a lynching tonight. Young Frink is a lad only sixteen years old, and is very popular in Jasper.

Three Shots were Fired.

LAGRANGE, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Considerable excitement was created here this afternoon at 5 o'clock by Pat Hutchinson, of Hutchinson Bros., shooting at E. Wilson, of Herd county. Wilson had purloined goods from Hutchinson's store, and when charged with the offense, used most abusive language. Pat fired three shots at him, none of which took effect. One struck Marshal Hackney, who was on the other side of the square, in the abdomen. It was only a flesh wound. Hutchinson belongs to one of our best families. Wilson bears a bad reputation.

An Engineer Killed.

VALDOSTA, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—The engine on J. J. Wall's tram road at Haines, six miles east of Valdosta, on the Savannah, Florida and Western railroad, was torn into scrap iron by a bursting boiler yesterday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Lyman Davis, the engineer, was thrown 150 yards against a house and instantly killed. In fact his body was terribly mutilated. George Thomas, the fireman, was badly scalded but not fatally hurt.

Drowned While Seining.

CAVE SPRINGS, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Charlie Johnson, colored, was drowned Saturday afternoon while out seining with eight or ten white men. The Police Commission.—A called meeting of the police commission was held last night, but no business of importancce was transacted. The commission adjourned to meet again Monday night, the regular meeting of the board.

Dr. Adolphus Ill.—Dr. Joseph Adolphus, who is connected with the Eclectic Medical college, has been confined to his bed for the last six weeks, but his friends will be glad to learn that his condition is much improved; and that in all probability he will soon be up and able to attend to his duties.

Change of Schedule.—The Atlanta and Florida train now leaves at 3 o'clock p. m. instead of 3:15 p. m. Passengers leaving on this train make connection at Fort Valley with the Central railroad, arriving at Americus 10:10 p. m., Smithville 10:30 p. m., and Albany 11:30 p. m.

The Schools will Close.—On the 15th of May the annual picnic of the Fulton County Sunday-School association will be held, and many little ones will avail themselves of this chance to take to the woods. The board of education, upon motion of Mr. Moran, has decided to give the schools a holiday on that day so that all who desire may go to the picnic.

A First-Class Hotel.—The traveling men who have recently visited Cedartown report that their journeys to that part of the state are now much pleasanter, because Cedartown has a first-class hotel. The Booz Hotel is the name of the new hostelry, and it is said to be run on the best plan—that of making every visitor comfortable and furnishing an excellent table.

Chamberlain and Johnson's Prizes.—The special prizes, amounting to $400, which have been offered by Chamberlain and Johnson, to be competed for at the Piedmont Exposition company by the ladies will not be restricted to those of Georgia. All ladies in the Piedmont section can compete. This includes Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee.

Abbeville All Right.—Chief Connally has received a telegram from Abbeville, Wilcox county, stating that the ball cartridges sent Saturday night were received and asking him to send a bill for the same. The telegram also stated briefly that the prompt action of the civil officers squelched the impending riot, and that Abbeville is all right, despite the menacing attitude of the turbulent negroes Saturday night.

The Hebrew Congregation.—At the regular meeting of the board of trustees of the Hebrew Benevolent Congregation last Monday evening, a committee was appointed to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Hon. David Mayer. Mr. Isaac Steinheimer was unanimously elected to fill the unexpired term as vice-president which Mr. Mayer so ably filled during his life.

A Valuable Law Book.—Judge Howard Van Epps has become almost a recluse now in the preparation of his book, the Index Digest of the Georgia Reports, authorized by the last legislature. The work is being prepared with great care and it is safe to predict that when completed it will be eminently satisfactory to the legal fraternity of the state and an honor to the author's legal ability. The book will be out, it is expected, by the 1st of July.

A Row Imminent.—A conference of the leading colored men of the south will meet today at 12 o'clock at the Big Bethel African Methodist Episcopal church. J. W. Thompson, of Florida, will preside. There will be about one hundred delegates present. It is expected that W. A. Pledger will endeavor to have the meeting adjourn to a northern city. The respectable colored people are said to be opposed to this change and there is liable to be trouble.

The Rome Circuit.—The Rome circuit, which was reached by the supreme court Monday afternoon, will be continued today. There were twenty-one cases on the docket, and several of these have been disposed of. Yesterday was consultation day, and as there was no court Colonel C. Rowell, Colonel W. H. Dabney, Hon. L. A. Dean and Hon. J. Banan, representing the Rome bar, passed the day calling on the officials at the capitol and looking up authorities in the state library.

They Are Out Again.—The many friends of Dr Dan Howell are rejoiced to see him on the streets again, able to attend to the duties of his profession.

Mr. Sandy Northington, after a long and painful illness, is able to be out again, although he is still quite feeble.

Patrolman Jim McGee, the veteran policeman, is out again, after a long and serious illness, but is not sufficiently recovered to go on duty.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting.—Atlanta is going to send a number of delegates to the international conference of General Young Men's Christian Association secretaries, at Nashville. The session opens on the 6th and closes on the 11th. Secretary C. A. Licklider, Assistant Secretary H. B. Mays, Railroad Secretary Wesley Bosard, and Physical Director H. C. Whitman are going, and several others connected with the athletic department. A special feature of the conference will be a magnificent programme on Field day, May 10.

The Atlanta delegates leave early next Tuesday morning on the Western and Atlantic.

Commissions Issued.—Yesterday was a great day for the notary publics who are, by virtue of their office, justices of the peace. During the morning the following commissions were issued from the executive office: For Jones county—W. A. Malone, 360th G. M. district; E. T. Dumas, Jr., 378th district; William H. Russell, Jr., 447th district; Henry T. Moore, 350th district. Lumpkin county—Noah White, 1,116th district. Schley county—L. A. Giles, 946th district. White county—P. J. Beach, 1,439th district; Jeremiah S. Brownlow, 1,441st district. Houston county—B. J. Harrison, 542d district; T. A. Newell, 771st district; Asbery Bryant, 928th district; J. S. Ryan, 970th district; J. M. T. Feagin, 560th district.

Lost His Grip.—Jumbo Hunter lost his grip yesterday. It was exasperatingly funny. Monday night he arrested Mr. George K. Bealer, the newspaper correspondent, for jumping on and off trains. The section that refers to that is "section 878" of the city ordinances.

But Hunter docketed his prisoner with violating "section 778." When Recorder Kontz reached the case he said:

"Mr. Bealer, you are charged with violating section 778, city ordinances. Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"Will you please read the section?"

"Section 778—The street recently opened, extending from the Western and Atlantic railroad and intersecting Cain street shall be named Bartow street——"

"Please, your honor, I am not guilty."

Hunter's face wore a puzzled expression as he heard the section read, which gave way to a look of blank amazement as the recorder concluded the reading, and the motly audience got on its hind legs and roared as the full force of the mistake became apparent.

The Trades' Display in Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—The second day of May week went off well. The crowds are increasing by every train. The trades' display today was the finest ever witnessed here. The carnival tomorrow night is expected with interest.

NO WATER BONDS

WILL BE ISSUED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LAST ELECTION.

The Decision of the City Attorneys—There Is No Doubt About the Term "Qualified Voters"—There Will Be No Bonds.

Atlanta's bond election, which was held on the 23d of this month, will amount to nothing! There will be no sewer bonds.

And there will be no water bonds—at least for some time.

The city attorneys, Messrs. Goodwin and Anderson, were requested by the mayor to investigate the question of the city's proceeding by authority of the last election to issue water bonds to the extent of $250,000, more than two-thirds of those voting being in favor of such, though this affirmative vote was less than two-thirds of the registration for the special election.

Indeed, the question depends on the construction put on the words of the code, "qualified voters." Are they those who registered, or are they those who voted, having first been qualified to do so?

The city attorneys seem to think that the matter is in doubt, and they recommend that the city does not issue bonds, but that the question be again submitted at the next regular election, They do not seem to look with favor on a special election as it is such a hard matter to get anything like a full vote, and by putting it on the day of the regular municipal election, the combinatain of interests and various other reasons that will bring out a full vote, they think will have the effect of securing a full expression on this question.

Following is the opinion of the city attorneys, which was handed to the mayor, from whom THE CONSTITUTION received it yesterday morning.

It was generally commented on during the day. As the city officials arrived early in the morning at the city headquarters they heard of the turn affairs had taken, and pretty soon it was the talk of the departments,—and then it reached the city.

THE OFFICIAL OPINION.

HON. JOHN T. GLENN, Mayor of Atlanta—Dear Sir: We have given the matter of the election to determine as to the issue of water bonds on the 23d instant the attention which its importance demanded, and, without going into elaboration, give you our conclusions as follows:

To authorize the issue of bonds, the constitution of the state, section 7, article 7, paragraph 1, requires the assent of two-thirds of the qualified voters at an election to be held as may be prescribed by law.

The legislature of 1878 and 1879 passed an act which is now embodied in the code of the state in section 508, prescribing the manner of holding elections in such cases, and amongst other things it is provided, section 508 L, that in determining the question of whether the requisite vote has been had in favor of any such issue of bonds, the tally sheets of the last general election in any municipality, etc., shall be taken as a correct enumeration of the qualified voters thereof. The supreme court of the state has in several decisions recognized the validity of this general act on the subject of holding such elections and ascertaining the result thereof. Said act is discussed and sustained in 79 Ga., page 152, Bell et al. vs. the Mayor, etc., of Americus.

The cases, however, on which the questions arose and were decided, were questions in which no registration of voters in accordance with the constitution and laws of the state had been had.

The constitution of the state, section 2, article 2, confers authority upon the general assembly to provide for the registration of voters; and inasmuch as the election by the city of Atlanta, on the 23d instant, was held under a constitutional registration of voters, the result must be arrived at under the facts and law applicable in such a case. The vote on water bonds in the city, in the election referred to, showed the following:

1. That said bonds received more than two-thirds of the votes actually cast in said election.

2. That said bonds received more than two-thirds of the number of votes cast in the last general city election, as shown by the tally sheet of said election.

3. That said bonds did nol receive two-thirds of the number of voters registered for this special election, nor two-thirds of the number registered for the last general election held in said city.

4. That the whole number of votes cast in said special election were not two-thirds of the number registered.

5. That the whole number of votes cast in the last general election held in said city were not two-thirds of the number registered for such last general election.

Now, it is manifest that if the water bonds had received less than two-thirds of the actual vote cast in the special election held for that purpose, or less than two-thirds of the number cast in the last general election, the issue of said bonds would have clearly been defeated. On the contrary, had said bonds received two-thirds of the voters registered for the special election, and two-thirds in number of those who registered for the last general election, then the issue would have been fully authorized. But it so happened in the result as to water bonds that, as stated, they received two-thirds of the votes actually cast in the special election, and two-thirds of the number cast in the last general election, but did not receive either two-thirds of the number registered for the special election nor two-thirds in number of the voters registered for the last general election; in view of which, a careful consideration of all the law bearing upon the subject became necessary.

We conclude that, in as much as the constitution of the state autharizes registration, and as this election was held under registration provided by law in pursuance of the constitution, and as the chief office and object of registration would seem to be to ascertain who are qualified voters, notwithstanding the general law on the subject, and the decision of the supreme court sustaining that general law, we regard it unsafe to issue the water bonds, unless the question should be made on the election, and prosecuted to and sustained by the supreme court.

It probably might be held that the general law of the state as embodied in the code, should apply only in cases where no constitutional registration had been had, and where no fixed or certain rule for ascertaining the number of qualified voters could be had except by reference to the tally sheets of the last general election, as provided by said act. While we conclude that the legality of the issue of water bonds under said special election is involved in too much doubt to authorize it in the absence of favorable adjudication of the supreme court, we apprehend that, should it be the wish of the city government to issue the same, some citizen or citizens who doubt or question the authority to do so, would move in an effort to enjoin the same, and that thus probably within sixty days a decision of the supreme court might be obtained.

Such a decision would, of course, forever protect the validity of the bonds, but we may remark that by the time such a decision could be had, we would be within four or five months of the next regular municipal election, to be held on the first Wednesday in December, 1890, when the question could again be submitted, and it is doubtful whether under the circumstances any steps should now be taken looking to the issue of said bonds under the special election, but that the more regular course would be to refer it to the next regular election. Very respectfully,

JOHN B. GOODWIN, City Attorney.
J. A. ANDERSON, Assistant City Attorney.

Mayor Glenn's Views.

Mayor Glenn was by no means surprised at the conclusion reached by the city attorney.

"I agree entirely," he said yesterday, "With the decision of Colonel Goodwin. I have considered from the time the result of the election was made known that not enough votes to comply with the law had been cast."

"Can anything be done now to issue the water bonds?"

"There is absolutely nothing that we can do now. The city council can, of course, order another election whenever they see fit to do so, but, in my opinion, it would be injudicious to do so for the present."

"When do you think would be the best time for another election?"

"Next December. There will be a general election, and I think the subject of bonds should then be voted on. It is too soon for me to give a decided opinion on the matter. But I don't believe in special elections be ordered too frequently, and I think for the present it will be better to accept the result of the election, and let the question of issuing the bonds rest."

MATTERS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

A gentleman who is prominent in Atlanta affairs, and who is always for anything that can benefit Atlanta, was talking about the old capitol building and the uses to which it might be put.

"Let me tell you," he said to his listeners, "what I think could and should be done with that building. I think we ought to go in together, say two hundred and fifty or three hundred of us, and form a state opera club and lease the building for opera house purposes. My idea of what the club should be is taken from such an organization in New Orleans and similar ones in some few of the larger cities. In brief, it is to have a beautiful opera house with all the attendant comforts and luxuries of a first-class club."

"Give us the details," said one of those who were present.

"I can't give them fully as yet, for I have not studied the subject very carefully; but you can easily see my general plan. My idea would be to include in that organization the Capital City club, for to be successful, this new organization must have in it just such people, and the same people, practically, as the Capital City club has now. I am a member of the club, and I believe that we could lease the old capitol building for as much as we now pay on the Capital City club house—when all expenses are taken into consideration. And if properly arranged, this club would be much more desirable than the old one, for it would combine with all of the present features, many which we do not now have."

"The opera house?"

"Yes, and a splendid restaurant for club members as well as one for the theatre-going public. The building, in all its apointments, could easily be the most elaborate in the south and would be second to none in the country. The club would control the lessess of the storerooms, should there be any, and the whole could be run upon the most elegant plan. We would get a first-class manager for the opera house, and by bringing the finest attractions would draw people from all parts of the state, especially from the territory directly tributary to Atlanta. The opera house, if properly run, would of itself pay the greater part of the rental of the building. This would give the elegant clubrooms, with all the club privileges, for next to nothing. I believe the scheme is a good one, don't you?"

There was general assent.

"Do you know why I keep hanging around Atlanta?" said Will Wynne yesterday, as he stretched his legs over a desk at the Markham house.

"Because it's bigger than Fort Valley, I suppose."

"No——"

"Why, then?"

"In the first place, on account of the barbers. Do you know I have been shaved four times today?"

"You mean that you have had four close shaves?"

"No, I mean what I say. I am struck on the Atlanta barbers, because every one of them has learned to play 'Dixie' with his razor on the strop. I can hear it now—rat-a-tat-tat-tat, rat-a-tat-tat; rat-a-tat—"

"Oh, talk sensibly!"

"Well, I'll give you a political pointer, then."

"What is it, then?"

"From the present outlook there will be 4,000 members of the next Georgia legislature."

"Why so?"

"Simply because I have heard of at least that many aspirants from different localities, and every solitary one of them is sure of success."

"Who will represent Houston county?"

"You've got me there, but"—taking his feet off the desk—"you might mention your humble servant, W. F. Wynne, as one of the most prominent—"

"Here, that will cost you forty cents a line—"

"Well, never mind about it, then. I'll put my card in the Fort Valley Leader, five dollars for the run of the canvass, you know. By the way, I am here now in the interests of the political aspirants."

"In what capacity?"

"I am here to see Governor Gordon and suggest that an extension be built to the state capitol to make room for the four thousand."

Dr. Gaston hits back. He had a word to say yesterday about Dr. Scott Todd's nautical knowledge.

"That story of his about me," said Dr. Gaston, "is all right for a land lubber like Scott Todd if it had not been told so often by others during the last decade; but the most interesting feature of this joke is the motive of retaliation which prompted it."

"Why, what was that?" asked the reporter, "tell it."

"Well," says the doctor, "I let out the secret of Dr. Todd's long absence from here after the meeting of the Medical association. The most of us all left on Friday, 18th inst., and so did our friend Dr. Todd with his son, Scott. But instead of coming toward Atlanta they went out upon the wide waste of waters to learn something of sea-faring life with the captain of a whaler, which lay in the offing. After getting aboard, the captain manifested a very accommodating spirit and told the doctor he could put him aboard of the boat plying to St. Simon's or send him to the city at any time he might wish to leave, so that the skiff which had brought them out was dismissed. With that wide awake interest in practical affairs which is a striking characteristic of Dr. J. S. Todd, he was interested in finding out all about the implements and the processes for capturing whales. The captain showed him the harpoons, with the lines attached, the cannon with the bombs for shooting the whales, and the big knives for cutting up the fat and the vessels for receiving the oil collected. The doctor and his son became greatly excited over the recital by the mate of the chasing of whales and their freaks when harpooned, etc.

"Presuming upon the good temper of the captain, Dr. Todd suggested that it might be possible for the captain to discover a whale along the Florida coast, as he had heard of one being caught on the coast of South Carolina some years ago. The captain jumped at the chance, though he had never been whaling in these waters, and proposed at once to Dr. Todd to accompany him upon the cruise. As the doctor had arranged for a short holiday, he promptly accepted the invitation, provided the ship would not go far out to sea, and would return in a few days.

* * *

"All was soon in commotion among the negro sailors who manned the ship; and though some of the crew had deserted the night before, some in a boat and others swimming ashore, there was a sufficient number left to venture out in good weather.

"The grub and sleeping accommodations of the whaler were not such as the elegant home of Dr. J. S. Todd offered, but this was a frolic anyhow and a good lunch had been brought from the Oglethorpe, which filled up the measure of their expectations for dinner, and even some to divide with the mate and captain who were the only white people on the vessel. The ship rode the waves in fine style under a brisk breeze, and to amuse the doctor the harpoon was cast several times at the schools of porpoise, and a bomb was also exploded amongst them, but without effect.

"To make a long story short, after all had retired for the night a gale came up, which drove the vessel out to sea, and when the doctor and his son, Scott, crept out of their hammocks next morning it was to find that they were scudding before the gale far, far away from land. The captain expressed great regrets at the predicament in which his reduced force placed him and the whole party, as it was impossible to do otherwise than run before the wind, wherever it might take them. Any mental perturbation of the doctor was effectually neutralized by the great inward disturbance, which saved him, also, of any concern about the bill of fare. But not so with Scott, who escaped this, and had a keen appetite for breakfast, but did not relish the hard tack and bacon, which his father's experience in war times would have accepted in lieu of any better rations.

"Eight dreary days and nights, amidst the filth of a whaler manned by negroes, without even the expectation of anything to relieve the monotony of the enforced voyage, rendered the sight of Brunswick, after passing Cumberland and St. Simon's, the most welcome possible to father and son. Sunburnt and weary with watching, while starvation had made ravages upon the doctor's fair proportions, they sought the first restaurant and then came aboard of the train to Atlanta. The first voyage of Dr. Todd upon the ocean will be long remembered as a whaling cruise. His friends and patrons will thus understand this detention of nearly two weeks."

IMPORTANT CHANGES.

The Railroad Commission Considering Matters of Great Interest to the Public.

The regular weekly meeting of the railroad commissioners was held yesterday. Questions of great importance to the merchants of the state and the railroads are now under consideration, and some radical changes are possible in the near future.

One of the questions before the commission is the relation of the different roads constituting the West Point Terminal system toward each other. It will soon be decided if Rule 1, which declares that all roads under the same management shall be treated as one road, cannot be made applicable to the Terminal system.

Another question of importance is the percentage which is allowed all the roads south of Macon. It will soon be decided if this percentage can not be abolished, or at least readjusted so that all the roads can enjoy an equal advantage. It will probably require several more meetings before either of the questions are definitely settled.

$100,000

TO BE ADDED TO THE ENDOWMENT OF EMORY COLLEGE.

Mr. W. P. Pattillo, of Atlanta, Started It With $25,000—The Trustees Pledged for $25,000—Other Contributions.

A cool $100,000!

That's the magnificent endowment just fallen to Emory college.

The friends of the institution and the Methodists of the state have reason to be proud of the work, and Atlanta may feel a special pride in the part taken by Atlanta Methodists.

In the first place:

Some days ago Mr. W. P. Pattillo of Atlanta, a graduate of Emory, addressed a note to Dr. Candler proposing to give $25,000 to the endowment of the college if the board of trustees would give an equal amount, the Methodists of Georgia another equal amount and the alumni would finish the endowment of the "Stone professorship" to the amount of $25,000.

The trustees were called together yesterday morning in Trinity church to consider the proposition of Mr. Pattillo. There were present Hon. J. J. Jones, Mr. J. S. Stewart, Hon. W. A. Hemphill, Dr. W. H. Potter, General C. H. Evans, Rev. J. W. Burke, Hon. T. M. Meriwether, Rev. T. F. Pierce, Dr. I. S. Hopkins, Professor C. E. Dowman, Dr. J. W. Hinton, Hon. J. M. Pace, Capers Dickson, Esq., Colonel L. D. Palmer and Rev. H. H. Parks.

Dr. Candler laid before the board Mr. Pattillo's proposition, and accompanied it with the statement that the alumni had already subscribed $9,000 of the $25,000 required of them, and would speedily raise the balance, and that the $25,000 asked of the church in Georgia he felt sure would be speedily forthcoming.

Would the trustees raise their $25,000? That was the question.

But it's a question no longer.

Mr. W. A. Hemphill led off with a subscription of $5,000, and the example was contagious.

Within a very few minutes $13,200 was subscribed by those present.

Nearly half the board were absent.

Yesterday afternoon the balance of the $25,000 was assured.

All that remains now is for the alumni and the Methodist denomination in Georgia to do their part.

Mr. Pattillo, in addition to the separate subscription of $25,000, subscribed $1,000 as an alumnus.

There is absolutely no doubt that what remains to be done can and will be accomplished within a few weeks.

It is the most gratifying success in the history of education in Georgia.

It looks like the dawn of a new era in this great matter of higher education.

Surely President Candler was the happiest man in Georgia yesterday. His always genial face was one warm, happy smile.

It means $100,000 for Emory, and if he hasn't a right to be happy—if he hasn't—then who has?

What About the University.

A group of four or five university alumni were together at the corner of Pryor and Alabama, when the matter of Emory's $100,000 endowment was mentioned.

"If a denominational college can call up $100,000 like that," remarked Mr. Tom Cobb Jackson, "the state university ought to be able to raise $200,000."

"Just what I was thinking," said Mr. Arnold Broyles.

"I was about to say it myself," said Mr. Lucian Knight.

"And it ought to be done," put in Mr. Nash Broyles.

"And now," said Mr. W. S. Upshaw, seriously, "now's the time to start it."

The same feeling was noticeable wherever the matter was discussed. It was urged that a meeting of the alumni should be called, and President Judge Van Epps was consulted.

"That's a magnificent text," he remarked, "for a sermon to every man that feels an interest in the state university, and to every public-spirited man in the state of Georgia."

It is probable that a meeting of the University Alumni association will be called today or tomorrow, and if the Atlanta alumni take hold of the matter in earnest there is no doubt as to its success.

And it is to be hoped that they will.

The residence of Mrs. Mary E. Davis, 143 Capitol avenue, was the scene of a beautiful occurrence at 5:30 o'clock, p. m., yesterday. At that hour, Mr. William W. Reed led to the marriage altar Miss Jennie T. Davis, one of the brightest, sweetest and most winning young ladies in the city.

The decorations, consisted of ferns, palms, roses, etc., so disposed as to produce a charming effect beneath the brilliant gas light. The parlors were an exquiste picture of floral loveliness. The ceremony, which was witnessed only by relatives and a few friends, was performed by Rev. G. P. Callaway, of LaGrange, an uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. Dr. McDonald, her pastor. Immediately thereafter a luncheon was served, farewells were spoken and Mr. and Mrs. Reed took their departure for Savannah, where a few days will be passed at Tybee Beach.

Mr. Reed is known as one of Atlanta's growing young men—one whose future is full of promise for himself and the fair woman he has won.

Mr. Joseph E. Veal, Jr., left the city a few days ago for Petersburg, Va., where he will be married on the 13th to Miss Berta Pierce, of that city. They are expected to arrive here on May 1st.

The members of the Second Methodist church have arranged for their annual picnic on Lookout Mountain on the 8th of May and have chartered a special train to leave here at 6:15 in the morning on the Chattanooga, Rome and Columbus railroad and returning to arrive at Rome at 8 p. m. They will have a refreshment car attached and have other plans to add to the success and pleasure of the occasion. Rev. B. F. Fraser is the pastor and managed a similar trip last spring. With the aid of that experience the enterprise will surely be a most enjoyable excursion.

Miss Kate Cooper, of LaGrange, who spent a few days with the family of Rev. W. J. Scott, on Currier street, has returned home. During her brief stay, she had several visitors from our society beaux.

Miss Alice Scott, of the city, went to Columbus on yesterday. She was joined at LaGrange by her friend, Miss Kate Cooper.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—A delightful entertainment was given at the elegant home of Mr and Mrs. T. L. McComb on Friday evening. The residence, which is one of the most beautiful in this city, was brilliantly illuminated, and, with the chat and laughter of the happy party assembled, presented a pretty picture. The feature of the evening was the "apron-stitching," lessons in "dress-making" by hemming their partner's aprons, a novel task from the fact that half the boys present didn't know the difference between a knitting needle and a fish hook. Cadet Luffboro won the prize, an elegant cake, for the best work, while the booby prize was given to Dixon Williams. During the evening little Miss Nettie McComb delighted the guests with an exquisitely rendered recitation, while delicious refreshments, cakes, ices, etc., were served afterwards.

On Thursday night a delightful entertainment was given by the Young Ladies' society at the residence of Captain Jake Caraker. The large home was crowded with young people, and the programme, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, etc., was well rendered. The entertainment was one of the most pleasant of the many delightful events given by the Young Ladies' society.

The pleasant and friendly rivalry that has existed between the two ladies' societies at the college during the last year has resulted in a great amount of good to both societies. A year or two ago a split in the Ennoian society gave life to the Melitarian, and since then both societies have vied with each other for supremacy. All of the young ladies take especial pride in their literary society, and their rooms have been fitted up exquisitely with pictures, portraits, paintings, mirrors, etc., while their library is filled with books and periodicals of different kinds. The following are the officers of the societies: The Melitarian—president, Miss Alice Campbell; vice-president, Miss Bessie Fox; secretary and treasurer, Miss Fannie Roberts; critic, Miss Cora Ennis. Of the Ennoian—president, Miss Eldna Young; vice-president, Miss Irene Stewart; secretary, Miss Etta Brown; treasurer, Miss Annie Harper; critic, Miss Chester Green; librarian, Miss Bessie Moran.

The picnic season opens today by the Sunday school picnic of the Episcopalians. The union Sunday school picnic will be held Friday week, while the young's gala day will be the Friday following.

BARNESVILLE, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—At the residence of Mr. James P. McLean, the leading allianceman of Pike county, a few friends assembled to witness the marriage of his eldest daughter, Miss Annie, to J. W. Brandon, of Upson county. The attendants consisted of six couples. The bride received many beautiful presents. In the evening a large company of friends were entertained at the residence of the groom's father, at a delightful high tea.

ROME, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—Invitations have been issued to a crystal wedding next week. They are sent out by Mr. and Mrs. J. King to the celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage on Monday evening, May 5th, from 8 until 12 o'clock. The cards are in the handsomest style of the engraver's art; with a dainty embossed monogram between the dates 1875 and 1890.

COLUMBIA, Tenn., April 29.—[Special.]—At St. Peter's church in this city, at 8:30 o'clock tonight, Mr. Edward Ward Carmack, editor of the Nashville American, was married to Miss Elizabeth Cobey Dunnington. The event was one of such general interest as to crowd to its utmost capacity and overflow the church with people. Miss Dunnington is a daughter of the late Frank C. Dunnington, well known to older citizens of the state as an editor of the Nashville Union and American. Mr. Carmack spent his boyhood and younger manhood in Columbia, representing Maury county in the legislature, only leaving to accept a position on the American, which finally resulted in his being assigned to the post of editor-in-chief. At the church everything was as charming as abundant flowers and drapery at the command of ladies, could make it. The attendants were Miss Floy Cooper and Mr. Goulding Marr, both of Nashville; Miss Florence Irvin and Mr. C. T. Looney; Miss Annie Denham, of Montgomery, Ala., and Mr. A. C. Floyd; Miss Narcissa Williams and Mr. Samuel Holding; Miss Minnie Holding and Mr. W. O. Vertrees, of Nashville; Miss Charlotte Whitthorne and Mr. Walter Cain, of Nashville. These couples, in the order named, preceded by the ushers, entered the church and stood upon the elevated pulpit. Miss Dunnington and her maid of honor, Miss Georgie Grider, of Bowling Green, Ky., followed and were joined by Mr. Carmack and Mr. Frank D. Lander, his best man. The bride's toilet was duchess en train, elaborately hand-embroidered in design of lilies, studded with seed-pearl, gold bullion leaves, the whole effect exquisitely softened by a bridal veil of illusion. She carried in her hand a white enameled prayerbook, the gift of her Sunday school class.

A reception was given at the residence of the bride's mother after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Carmack were the recipients of a great many handsome gifts. They came from all parts of the state, from the political friends of Mr. Carmack and the old friends of Mr. Dunnington, as well as from the numerous personal admirers of the young people. One gift is especially deserving of particularization. It was made by the mother of the bride to Mr. Carmack and consisted of a valuable and elaborate silver table service, presented by his democratic admirers to the bride's father for eminent services rendered by him as editor of the Union and American during the great Buchanan and Breckenridge presidential campaign. The bridal couple leave on the early morning train for Charleston, S. C., to attend a meeting of the Southern Press association. After a few days stay they go by steamer to New York city, where they will spend several weeks.

To Form a Permanent Organization.—The sons of confederate soldiers will meet at the Veterans' hall, on Broad street, next Friday night, to form a permanent organization. Everybody whose father fought on the confederate side is requested to be present. Some of the veterans have consented to make short speeches.

Two kinds of lamp-chimneys: one breaks; the other does not. Which do you think your grocer or glassman would rather sell?

If you buy the breaker, you're buying all the time. If you buy the not-breaker, he may not live to sell you another. You know him—which do you think he'd rather you'd buy?

Wonders

Are wrought by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor in restoring gray hair to its original color, promoting a new growth, preventing the hair from falling, keeping it soft, silky, and abundant, and the scalp cool, healthy, and free from dandruff or humors. The universal testimony is that this preparation has no equal as a dressing, and is, therefore, indispensable to every well-furnished toilet.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for some time and it has worked wonders for me. I was troubled with dandruff and was rapidly becoming bald; but since using the Vigor my head is perfectly clear of dandruff, the hair has ceased coming out, and I now have a good growth, of the same color as when I was a young woman. I can heartily recommend any one suffering from dandruff or loss of hair to use Ayer's Hair Vigor as a dressing."—Mrs. Lydia O. Moody, East Pittston, Me.

"Some time ago my wife's hair began to come out quite freely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

not only prevented my wife from becoming bald, but it also caused an entirely new growth of hair. I am ready to certify to this statement before a justice of the peace."—H. Hulsebus, Lewisburgh, Iowa.

"Some years ago, after a severe attack of brain fever, my hair all came out. I used such preparations for restoring it as my physicians ordered, but failed to produce a growth of hair. I then tried, successively, several articles recommended by druggists, and all alike fell short of accomplishing the desired result. The last remedy I applied was Ayer's Hair Vigor, which brought a growth of hair in a few weeks. I think I used eight bottles in two years; more than was necessary as a restorative, but I liked it as a dressing, and have continued to use it for that purpose. I believe Ayer's Hair Vigor possesses virtues far above those of any similar preparation now on the market."—Vincent Jones, Richmond, Ind.

A RAILROAD MAGNATE.

MR. HENRY VILLARD IN ATLANTA YESTERDAY.

A Young German Emigrant Who Now Owns the Northern Pacific Railroad—A Sketch of His Remarkable Career.

Mr. Henry Villard, the railroad magnate, reached Atlanta yesterday morning.

Mr. Villard has been suffering for sometime with rheumatism, and is on his way to Hot Springs, of North Carolina, for the benefit of his health.

Of all the great financiers and railroad kings who have made colossal fortunes during the past quarter of a century, not one has had such a checkered career as Mr. Villard.

The virtual owner of the Northern Pacific road is a big man with a strongly marked face. He wears a short iron-gray moustache, and though he uses perfectly correct English, a slight Teutonic accent still clings to him and proclaims his German birth.

Mr. Villard landed in America many years ago with the intention of becoming a rich man. He drifted to the west and in Illinois he accepted a position on a German newspaper. He found, however, that journalism did not suit him, and after giving it a trial, he resigned and devoted himself to the study of the law.

When the war broke out Mr. Villard—or Hilgard as he had been known up to that time—offered his services to Horace Greely and became a war correspondent. He signed his articles Henry Villard and has borne that name ever since.

When the war closed he returned to the west and to his German friends; he was employed to look after their legal interests in one of the small western roads which was then being built. Later he was made receiver of the same road.

After several years he drifted to Oregon and became convinced of the great importance of the Northern Pacific railroad, which Jay Cook was then trying to build. He watched his opportunity, and when Jay Cook failed in his enterprise he succeeded in raising the money to carry on the work.

He then went to New York and became one of the features of Wall street. He built a magnificent house on Madison avenue, and was soon accounted one of the great millionaires of the city.

Suddenly there came a crash. It was found that some $3,000,000 more were needed to complete the Northern Pacific road and as Villard was unable to produce the money, he was swept under. His magnificent new house was sold to Whitelaw Reid and for a time he disappeared from New York.

For three years the name of Villard was heard no more in financial circles. Then a rumor gained currency that he had returned to New York, that he had organized the Oregon Construction company, and that he would again be the virtual owner of the Northern Pacific road. The rumor proved true, and Mr. Villard is now on the way to a greater fortune than he possessed before his failure.

Mr. Villard is not one of the talking travelers. He was on his special car, but he declined giving any positive views of the south.

"I was at Chattanooga the other day," he said, "and they told me that their city was the finest city in the south. I suppose that the Atlanta people claim the same. I have not been here long enough to be a judge. I have, however, looked about Atlanta today, and there is every appearance of its being a thriving place.

"I think," he continued, after a moment's pause, "that, with eastern capital and southern resources, there is no limiting the prosperity of the south."

He was accompanied by his cousin, Mr. Hilgard, of Cincinnati.

FUNERALS IN ATLANTA

The funeral of Mrs. Ellen Doonan, mother of Mr. John J. Doonan, occurred at the church of the Immaculate Conception yesterday morning at nine o'clock, and there were many friends present to witness the sad ceremonies. One of the most affecting features of the funeral ceremonies was that Rev. F. Doonan, who is a son of the deceased lady, and is the distinguished president of the great Georgetown university, conducted the services.

Mrs. Doonan was a lady whose long life was singularly pure and beautiful, and in death her friends have the sweet consolation of feeling that she has only exchanged the mortal for the immortal time for a blessed eternity.

Mrs. Dickerson's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Eunice Dickerson occurred at the Fifth Baptist church yesterday. Mrs. Dickerson died at her home, No. 74 Yonge street, Monday night. She was a lady of many lovable qualities. Her death is sadly deplored by a large circle of friends who knew and loved her.

A DANGEROUS RUNAWAY.

Mr. John Boylan and His Little Son Thrown From a Roadcart.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. John Boylan and his little son had a narrow escape from serious injury in a runaway scrape on Calhoun street.

Mr. Boylan was driving a horse that was a little wild, and as he passed under Calhoun-street culvert, going toward Decatur street, he became unmanagable and ran away.

Mr. Boylan was unable to control him, and the light road cart to which he was harnessed was dashed to pieces against a telephone pole just in front of Sergeant Curtright's residence, on Calhoun street. Mr. Boylan and the little boy were both thrown violently to the ground, but fortunately neither of them was seriously hurt.

THE SOUTHERN CADETS.

IT IS PROBABLE THAT THEY WILL GO TO KANSAS CITY

To Meet the Atlanta Rifles Again—Mr. Waters, Representing the Kansas City Drill, Returns from Macon.

Mr. John F. Waters, general manager of the Kansas City drill, reached Atlanta from Macon yesterday.

He has been doing some very tall hustling in the Central City to secure the entrance of the Southern Cadets for the great interstate contest.

Mr. Waters is thoroughly enthusiastic on the military spirit of Macon and the reception given him, and when he came away yesterday it was with the entrance of the Cadets almost assured.

There has been a great deal said about the Cadets and their entrance and subsequent withdrawal from the Kansas City drill.

"You can put it down that the Southern Cadets will surely drill in Kansas City next month," said Mr. Waters yesterday to a CONSTITUTION reporter.

"I am in high hopes of receiving their official entry by Thursday night or Friday morning, and unless I am very much mistaken in my men you'll find it just as I put it."

"What is holding the Cadets back?" was asked Mr. Waters.

"There is not a man on the roll who is not anxious to come to Kansas City to our drill. That is the Cadets are all in favor of it but Captain Sims—all the other officers, and the company to a man."

"What's wrong with the captain? Not afraid?"

"No, I guess not. He is being influenced by the business men of Macon, some of whom have advised him that it will be best to remain at home and attend to his business, and let his men do the same."

"But about that citizens' fund to send the company—to pay their expenses?"

"That's all straight. Captain Price has raised $2,000 and has offered to make it five hundred more if the company will go."

"What does Captain Sims say about it?"

"In my talk with him Captain Sims laid the case before me, as I have said, on a basis of negligence of business. He referred me to Messrs. Cabaniss and Turpin, directors of the Exchange bank, and to Colonel Jaques and Captain Hanson as prominent business men who had urged him not to take the Cadets to Kansas City. I called upon these gentlemen, and when I left, Messrs. Cabaniss and Turpin and Captain Hanson had entirely changed their minds, after reading Monday's CONSTITUTION, and were enthusiastic in favor of the Cadets entering to meet the Rifles and any other company that has the grit to stand up to them.

Colonel Jaques was out of the city, but the other gentlemen say they will see him, as well as others who think it best that the Cadets should stay at home, and put another tune in their mouths."

"Do you think Captain Sims will agree with with them?"

"Yes. He will be governed by the sentiments of the business men. He is at present in Columbus, but will return home tomorrow, and a meeting of the Cadets will be held Thursday night. At that meeting I am confident that the matter will be settled, and that the company will go down on my list."

"How do the Cadets talk about meeting the Rifles again?"

"They'll get a chance in Kansas City, won't they?"

"That's what we're pulling for, and the whole town down there is worked up over the affair. If the Cadets don't enter it won't be because they lack the support of the city."

Mr. Waters attended a meeting of the Zouaves last night.

The Zouaves unanimously decided to enter the Kansas City drill, and will begin their arrangements at once.

An important meeting of the Rifles will be held tonight. Mr. Waters will remain over in Atlanta today and attend the Rifles' meeting tonight to talk over the big drill.

THE ENGLISH RIFLES.

A New Military Company Organized Last Evening.

The English Rifles.

That is the name of a new military company organized last night.

It is the outcome of the recent drill practice that made the police battalion show up to such a handsome advantage on Memorial Day.

Forty-three of the most efficient members of the Atlanta police force enrolled themselves as members, and in honor of the worthy chairman of the board of police commissioners the new company was christened the "English Rifles."

Following are the officers elected:

W. P. Manly, captain.
J. M. Wright, first lieutenant.
A. J. Moss, second lieutenant.
C. C. English, first sergeant.
R. S. Ozburn, second sergeant.

The entire board of police commissioners, including Mayor Glenn and Chief Connolly, were elected honorary members, and the company will meet again Tuesday evening next, to drill.

Bradley Slaughter was elected secretary of the company, which bids fair to be one of the finest military organizations in the city.

Six thousand three hundred and ninety-eight dollars.

That is the amount already subscribed to the ladies who are interested in securing a fund for the benefit of one of the noblest charitable institutions in the city.

The Home for the Friendless.

Its very name is suggestive of the grand and noble purposes for which it was established. During its existence it has sheltered many a waif, and given protection to many a homeless and heart-broken woman, who would otherwise have been compelled to sleep on the streets or in a cell at the police station.

At the meeting held Monday in the parlors of the Young Men's Christian association, the following isst was reported:

Mrs. Chute reported	$ 50 00
Miss Haskins	50 00
Mrs. Will Haight	56 00
Mrs. A. V. Gude	100 00
Mrs. J. M. Beath	100 00
Mrs. M. R. Berry	100 00
Mrs. E. E. Rawson	100 00
Mrs. Hawthorne and Riley	112 00
Mrs. W. B. Allies	125 00
Mrs. Elchberg	125 00
Mrs. J. A. Miller	170 50
Mrs. W. A. Moore	172 50
Mrs. Judge Jackson	200 00
Mrs. J. F. Averill	212 00
Mrs. C. A. Collier	220 00
Mrs. Joseph Hirsch	250 00
Mrs. E. P. McBurney	300 00
Mrs. L. B. Nelson	1,955 00
Mrs. Hoke Smith reported $1,700 and became responsible for	2,000 00
Total	$6,308 00

The ladies of the Home hope to be able to increase the list to $10,000 by the next meeting, which will be held at the Young Men's Christian association rooms at 5 o'clock, Monday, May 5th.

The appeal is one that goes straight to the heart, and cold must be the spirit that would not respond to such a call. The ladies in charge of the noble work have issued the following touching appeal:

In the hurry and rush of life let the people not neglect to cultivate the more valuable qualities of our hearts.

If our every energy is given to the acquirement of material things, to the exclusion of any care for or interest in the unfortunate, then is life a failure.

If we cannot ourselves give personal attention to charitable work, let us provide the means for those who can and are willing to do so. Our good wives and mothers and sisters see the suffering and sorrow all about us, even our children are ready to join in the work of saving the little friendless ones.

The Home for the Friendless has always been crowded. The ladies have never had means to do as well as was in their hearts to do. During its existence a child of tender years has made frequent visits there to amuse and benefit the little ones who were so unfortunate as to be dependent upon the charities of that institution. Among the inmates at one time was a babe of less than two years, sick, lonely, sad. Its appealing expression touched the heart of this child, and she besought the matron to let her take the little one home, promising it should have her undivided attention till restored to health. Permission was given, and she took it to her home, and for more than nine months cared for that little one with a devotion worthy of any mother, returning it to perfect health, and through the kindly offices of some of our ladies it is now in a home by adoption where father and mother vie with each other in their efforts to make its life one of joy and happiness. That this baby's life was saved by the little foster mother there is no doubt. The Christ-like impulses of another of our children found expression in nursing back to life a second little orphan boy, and for seven long months she gave every hour of day and night to the care of this baby. Not only did she succeed in saving his life, but in building him into a robust, ruddy, beautiful child, whose winning ways have never yet failed to make every one in whose contact he comes his ardent admirer and fast friend. He, too, has been placed where the motherly heart of a good Christian woman will protect and care for him.

Will not the good angel, in making up his books, leave a large balance to the credit of these young workers, who gave, not money, but themselves to the work? Isn't this spirit worth cultivation? Is it not a duty and will we not consider it a pleasure to place these ladies and children in such position as to enable them to do this work satisfactorily and effectively.

Now is the best time of the whole year to purify your blood, because you are more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at other seasons. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine to take.

When going to New York be sure and engage a room beforehand. There is no more comfortable hotel in the city for either transient or permanent guests than the Sturtevant House, Broadway, corner 29th street. Handsomely appointed, conveniently situated.

An Unqualified Endorsement

I write this for the benefit of those who may now be suffering from kindred affections, that for a long time gave me so much pain. For ten years I was greatly troubled by what good physicians called rheumatism or neuralgia of the bladder, and found no cure until I tried (without much faith) Stuart's Gin and Buchu. The first bottle gave relief from pain in the bladder, put my kidneys in good order, relieved me from spinal weakness, and gave general tone to my whole system After taking several bottles, I found further treatment unnecessary and discontinued its use. This was five years ago. I have had no return of my former troubles. E. D. L. MOBLEY.

H. L. WILSON - - - AUCTIONEER.

FOR SALE, THURSDAY, MAY 8, AT AUCTION UPON THE PREMISES,

38 Vacant Lots

On Alexander, Orme, Hunnicutt and Mills streets. This is close to business, only three blocks from Peachtree street, and is the largest piece of land so near the very center of the city that is now unoccupied. Just the place for residences for those who desire to be convenient to business on Marietta, Peachtree, or any intermediate streets. Here you would be independent of street cars, for you would be right at churches, stores, schools and the various industries near this property. Nice, clean cottages would rent to good thrifty and industrious tenents forever, and at proper prices. Here is the place to make a first-class investment. The improvements now going on around these blocks are bound to enhance the value of everything upon these streets. You can't make a mistake in buying any of these lots, because they are properly located. People are moving into Atlanta from all over the country, especially from the cold and flooded districts. New factories are going up all the time, while the old ones are constantly increasing their capacity. These new comers must have homes; they have got the money and will have them, and of course must pay four prices in the future. Now is your chance to buy cheap; $1,000 invested in this property now may be worth two or three thousand in a year or so. It is now admitted that no place in the United States is attracting population and means like Atlanta. Then place your money in central real estate like this while it is cheap. You will certainly be handsomely repaid. Alexander street is the short link connecting Peachtree and Marietta streets; it is broad, straight and beautifully graded. Orme street leads into Peters Park and is destined to be one of the most pleasant drives from the center of the city to the park. Call and get your plat and be ready for the sale.

BOWE CASE DECISION

RENDERED YESTERDAY BY JUDGE NEWMAN

In Favor of the United States—The Case Becomes an Important Precedent as the First of Its Kind Brought

At last—the Bowe case is decided.

Judge Newman, of the United States circuit court, rendered a lengthy opinion, in open court, yesterday morning in the case of William F. Bowe against the United States, the conclusion of which was that the plaintiff is not entitled to recover in any amount and rendering judgment in favor of the United States, with costs of suit.

Very important principles are involved in this suit that are of more interest to the public than to the legal fraternity. In the last year of ex-President Cleveland's administration (March 3, 1887,) an act was passed by congress permitting the United States to be sued in any United States circuit court anywhere in the country, for amounts not less than $1,000, nor more than $10,000, such cases to be tried by the court without ajury. "War claims," of course, are not included.

Heretofore all such suits were restricted to the court of claims in Washington, D. C., and for over one hundred years the general government had refused to be sued except in its own capital.

The litigation grew out of the building of the soldiers' barracks at Fort McPherson, and was based upon charges that the army officer in control of the work, Captain Jacobs, had demanded better material and a finer building than the contract provided for. In this way the relation of the army and the general government to public works was involved.

Bowe claims that after he began the erection of the buildings Captain Jacobs, who represented the government throughout the transaction, began to change and vary the construction of the buildings from the terms of the plans and specifications and added considerable thereto, and had frivolously and without reafo or just cause condemned much material and workmenship; on account of which Bowe lost material and labor to the amount of about $10,000. The court heard evidence at considerable length on the issues involved and on the various items involved in the suit.

In his opinion Judge Newman says: "During the progress of the work Captain Jacobs exercised a constant and careful supervision over it. He seems to have examined, with great care, all material before it went into the building, and all the work and each part of it as it progressed. He also offered to go anywhere in Georgia with Bowe, at the expense of the government, to examine material and decide whether it would be satisfactory or not, so that Bowe need not be put to the delay and expense of bringing unsatisfactory material on the ground. The orders given and decisions made by Captain Jacobs were all positive, sometimes peremptory, and yet in every instance, so far as they have been drawn in question here, they seem to have been made in good faith and with the sole purpose of having these buildings constructed in accordance with the contract, and to discharge his duty as a superintendent to the government. Mr. Bowe was frequently informed by Captain Jacobs that if any decision made by him was not satisfactory he could appeal from the same, through him, to the war department, but in no instance did Bowe avail himself of this right."

The decision holds the contractors to the utmost good faith and the best class of work in building for the government. In this respect Judge Newman's decision is in line with the action of ex-President Cleveland and ex-Secretary Whitney, who condemned some war ships that John Roach had built for the United States navy; and is also in harmony with the rulings of these great democratic officials in paying only the contract price and in sternly refusing the allowance of "extras."

It will be remembered that, as chairman of the appropriations committee, the late Samuel J. Randall was the relentless foe of paying "extras" to army, navy and mail contractors, and for his bold position Mr. Randall earned the hatred of the lobbyists. If congress acts upon the honest principles Judge Newman has announced in this case, many raids on the treasury will be repulsed and the government will be saved thousands of dollars. This decision by a southern judge upon southern soil disproves the charge that there is any prejudice against the general government in this quarter. It also shows that in a contest between contractors and army officers evenhanded justice will be meted out.

The decision of Judge Newman has been delayed some time by pressure of business on the criminal dockets, and the outcome of the case was looked for with the liveliest interest.

Bowe was represented by Messrs. Arnold and Arnold; and the United States by S. A. Darnell, United States attorney, and E. A. Angier. Captain Jacobs was represented by Messrs. N. J. and T. A. Hammond.

THE HOWARD CASE.

Four Most Wonderful Cures

OF

Skin, Scalp and Blood Diseases

BY THE

Cuticura Remedies

Eczema 17 Years

Seventeen Years of fearful suffering. Head, face and ears, one solid scab. Body a mass of disease. Limbs contracted and helpless. Physicians and all medicines useless. Cured by CUTICURA REMEDIES in eight weeks. Cured in January, 1879, and has continued complete and permanent to date, Jan. 26, 1890.

Cured by Cuticura

At the age of three months a rush (which afterwards proved to be eczema or salt rheum) made its appearance on my face. A physician said teething was the cause; he prescribed, but the sores spread to my ears and head. Another M. D. called it "King's Evil," and prescribed gunpowder, brimstone, and lard mixed into a salve. Another prescribed borax water and flour; another linseed poultices. None of them did me any good at all, but made me worse. The disease spread to my arms and legs, till I was laid up entirely, and from continually sitting on the floor on a pillow, my limbs contracted so that I lost all control of them. My mother would have to lift me out and into bed. I could not get my clothes on at all, and had to wear a sort of dressing gown. My hair had all matted down or fallen off, and my head, face and ears were one scab, and I had to have a towel on my head all the time in the summer to keep the flies off. My parents consulted a prominent physician and surgeon here in Chicago (the other physicians before mentioned were of Dundas and Hamilton, Canada). He said he could do nothing for me. He wanted to cut the sinews of my legs so that I could walk; but I would not let him, for if I did get better I would have no control of them.

When I first applied the CUTICURA REMEDIES in January, 1879, I was all raw and bleeding, from scratching myself, but I went asleep almost immediately, something I had not done for years, the effect was so soothing.

The first morning after using them my flesh (I had no skin, only on the end of my nose) was a pink color. Next day it was kind of white, and I could place my hands on the sores without it being painful. In about two weeks I could stand straight, but not walk, I was so weak; but my sores were nearly well. I was cured in about six to eight weeks, and up to this date (i. e., from January, 1879, to January, 1887,) I have not been sick in any way, or have had the least sign of the disease reappearing on me. My limbs are straight, supple, and strong, and my skin is finer, softer, and not so liable to get chapped as is other persons'. There are many persons who can testify to the wonderful cure I have received by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. W. J. McDONALD.

3732 Dearborn St. CHICAGO, ILL., Jan. 30, 1887.

Since writing you, Jan. 30, 1887, in regard to my cure of eczema in January, 1879, I have had no reappearance of the disease in any form, and am as strong and healthy as though I had never had any such disease. W. J. McDONALD.

3732 Dearborn St., CHICAGO, ILL., Jan. 26, 1890.

Scrofulous Child

Running sores all over body. Head a solid scab, discharging offensive matter. Bones affected and pieces discharged. Could not move in bed, having no use of hands. Cured by CUTICURA REMEDIES. N. B.—This cure was made May 9, 1885, and has remained permanent to date. Feb. 7, 1890.

Cured by Cuticura

When six months old, the left hand of our little grandchild began to swell, and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure, it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula, of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using all freely. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child.

Your letter of inquiry in regard to the permanency of the cure (by the CUTICURA REMEDIES) of my little grandson, was duly received, and I am happy to say he remains perfectly well, and has no sores and no signs of scrofula. If he gets a cut or bruise it heals readily and the child is well.

Mortar Spotted Skin

Body covered with scales like spots of mortar. An awful spectacle. Disease, eczema and psoriasis combined. Consulted physicians in vain. Completely cured in five weeks by CUTICURA REMEDIES. N. B.—This cure was effected Sept. 21, 1887, and is confirmed by letter, Feb. 21, 1890.

Cured by Cuticura

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary cure your CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery. I happend to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly cruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babies with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words my thanks to you. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's. GEO. COTEY.

MERRILL, WIS., Sept. 21, 1887.

I confirm my cure of Sept. 21, 1887, and cannot express the thanks I owe you. GEO. COTEY.

Psoriasis 28 Years

Body covered with scaly psoriasis [illegible] Constant shedding of scales. [illegible] endless and without relief. [illegible] all the time. Physicians and the [illegible] remedies useless. Cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES at a cost of [illegible] Cured Jan. 20, 1887. Cure [illegible] date, Feb. 5, 1890.

Cured by Cuticura

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved [illegible] $200.00 (two hundred dollars) and an [illegible] amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on [illegible] head in a [illegible] not larger [illegible] a cent. [illegible] spread rapidly all over [illegible] body and [illegible] under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a [illegible] man, but [illegible] rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I took * * * and * * * Sarsaparilla over one year and a half, but no cure. I went to two or three doctors, and no cure. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was three boxes CUTICURA, and three bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and two cakes of CUTICURA SOAP. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00 you would have had the money. I looked like the picture in your book of Psoriasis (picture No. [illegible] "How to Cure Skin Diseases"), but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature with me. I thank you a thousand times. Anyone who reads this may write to me, and I will answer it. DENNIS DOWNING.

WATERBURY, VT., Jan. 20, 1887.

I confirm my cure of Jan. 20, 1887, which remains complete and permanent to date. DENNIS DOWNING.

WATERBURY, VT., Feb. 5, 1890.

There is a young lady in Canada who had a severe fever sore which the doctors told her was incurable. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to her, and she is now all well. A lady in Montreal had the salt rheum for fifty-five years, and was compelled to poultice her arms and neck. She used the CUTICURA REMEDIES and is now entirely recovered. Many others, to my knowledge, have used them to the greatest advantage, and in every case where I have recommended them they have been successful. For children and infants they are simply wonderful. I believe they will cure every kind of skin and scalp diseases where doctors and all other remedies fail. DENNIS DOWNING.

WATERBURY, VT., Feb. 5, 1890.

For Sale Tuesday, May 6.

Henry Seltzer's Estate.

Worth Over $100,000.

THIS VALUABLE, BEAUTIFUL AND CHOICE property is upon the market for the purpose of paying debts and distribution, otherwise you could not obtain one inch of it. The three large level lots on Peachtree have no equals in the city. Look at the grand old original forest trees stretching out their graceful limbs to shade and protect the deep green grass, and you cannot help wanting one of these, the best on the street.

The valuable home on Houston street, No. 46, is close in and convenient. Such large lots are very scarce near the center of the city. Now, where can you find any central real estate for sale? I know of none but this on the corner of Broad and Walton streets. On Marietta street, just a jump from these brick stores, we all concede that the vacant ground is well worth

$1,000 PER FRONT FOOT.

This is almost as valuable, and yet such property is enhancing all the time. Why? Because the great increase in population and in money increase the demand. There is no boom in Atlanta. Just a natural progressive increase. This and nothing more. Capitalists and investors will please call at my office for plats and information. The Peachtree and Juniper street property will be sold first at the court house. Then I will sell the elegant home, No. 46 Houston street, saving the dessert—the central property right in the heart of the city—for the last.

THE FRUIT CROP.

THERE WILL BE PEARS AND PEACHES IN PLENTY,

And Plums and Grapes Will Add to the Feast —Apples Never Fail—Some Prominent Fruit Men Talk Hopefully.

GRIFFIN, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—The freeze of March did the fruit crop much damage, but we will have some, anyway.

At least that's what the fruit men say of the situation.

And they say further that the danger line is past, if they all do not agree as to the amount of fruit we are to have. Location and circumstances possibly have a good deal to do with the trees standing or succumbing to the cold snap. The man who offered $1 each for every peach raised in Spalding county had better be perfecting his arrangements for money to make good his offer.

Our section is known for its superior fruit, and for this reason many inquiries have been made of the growers as to its condition. Knowing this, and knowing also that the best way to arrive at a correct solution of the fruit problem was to see the men who own the orchards, and talk to them, THE CONSTITUTION representative interviewed them, taking in the circuit from Orchard Hill, where Judge J. D. Cunningham has a large orchard, to near Sunny Side, the orchards of A. & J. Sutherland.

A TALK WITH THE ORCHARD MEN.

Mr. John D. Cunningham, Jr., was seen first. Though Mr. Cunningham is a young man in years, he is ripe in experience, and what he says may be set down as authority. He said: "I am not interested in any kinds of fruits except peaches. The crop of this fruit in my orchard is from one-eighth to one-fourth of budded fruit, differing as regards location and variety. Of the seedling varieties there is one-half to three-fourths of a crop, and I consider this safe from further danger. My examination has been close, constant and thorough."

Mr. Phillip Smith, a man who has spent a life time in orchards and vineyards, says: "I can only speak of my own prospects, although I am surrounded by neighbors engaged in the same pursuit. Grapes will show a full crop. Peaches will not be very abundant, though I am unable to say what per cent the crop will yield. Apples will be scarce in this section. There will be neither plums or pears of any variety. The strawberries will show up in good time, and a full crop, too."

MR. HUSTED'S VIEWS.

Mr. J. D. Husted, president of the Middle Georgia Fruit Shippers' union, was asked his opinion, and said: "In answer to your general question as to the fruit crop, will say fruit of all kinds was damaged by the cold weather in March. In this locality there will be no plums, no quinces, and but very few pears. Peaches of the budded variety will not show more than one-tenth of a full crop; of seedlings I estimate a half crop; grapes promise three-fourths of a crop, if nothing further happens to injure them."

Messrs. A. & J. Sutherland, two of the most extensive fruit growers in this section, and two more practical or clever men it would be hard to find, replied very promptly and courteously: "We can now form a very correct condition of what the fruit yield will be as the damage is over. Peaches were greatly damaged. There will probably be one-eighth of a crop, hardly more. Wild goose plums, the principal variety grown in this section, we consider a total failure. Kelsey and Botan are the only other varieties grown here, and they seem to have shared the same fate as the wild goose.

As to grapes, the vines that were pruned early seem to be the only ones damaged. We think the indications are good for 90 per cent of a full crop. Apples will doubtless be a full crop, as the buds were perfectly dormant at the time of the freeze. Indications for strawberries are 85 per cent. Pears are nearly, if not a complete failure.

Messrs. James Beaty and Henry Gulhouse were the most despondent ones seen. They spoke as if their fruit was a perfect failure, except grapes. Mr. Gulhouse said, at parting: "You may promise THE CONSTITUTION some grapes from my vineyard. I'm afraid this is the best I'll be able to do this year."

HASELKUS IS HOPEFUL.

Mr. H. W. Haselkus was the last approached on the subject. He answered in his usual good-natured manner. "Gras are as full as the vines will allow. Apples will also be plentiful. We will have some pears of the hardier varieties, but no LeContes. This variety blooms rather early, generally, for our section. When they do hit for us though we get it rich.

As to peaches we will have plenty for home consumption, and a good many to spare to our northern friends who are less favored than we. I notice that young orchards, those that were not overburdened with last year's crop, are in good condition and will show nearly a full crop. The old trees are taking a rest.

This represents the status of the fruit by men who make the subject a study for gain.

THE OAT CROP OF BROOKS.

The Fall Crop Will Be Cut Off Fifty Per Cent.

QUITMAN, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—The oat crop of Brooks county will be short this year. Several causes have conspired to this end—the fall and spring have been extremely and almost continuously dry; the winter has been very mild, and several freezes have occurred at an inopportune time.

Information from prominent farmers in different parts of the county establishes the fact that the fall crop will be cut off fully fifty per cent. The spring has been unusually dry, and is still so. The spring oats are now twenty-five per cent below par; and, unless they have rain soon, they will be damaged at least fifty per cent.

This is a serious loss to the farmer. Oats are more cheaply made than corn is. The usual hog-killing time was delayed last season because of warm weather, and much corn that would have been in cribs now went to keep hogs fat. Some farmers that do not generally buy corn will have to do so this year. Inquiries have already been made for it and the price of it will advance.

Practicing Law In Jail.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 29.—[Special.]—The filing of a paper in the federal court at Macon on Saturday recalled the famous trial and conviction of Luther A. Hall for land-grabbing in Dodge county. When, several months ago, previous to Hall's trial, an ejectment suit was filed by Norman W. Dodge against James Vaughn, Hall was retained by Vaughn as counsel. The paper filed was an answer to the suit, and was prepared by Hall himself in his cell in the Chatham county jail, a few days ago.

Beautiful Picnic Grounds.

The beautiful grove, the large and delicious freestone spring, and the elegant and capacious covered platform at Vinings, have made it emphatically the favorite during the past two years.

Brown park, opened and improved this year, and a quarter of a mile from the railroad in Marietta, is a magnificent forest with two clear branches running through it. It has one freestone and two mineral springs. apr27 d10t

MRS. TERRY ON THE WARPATH.

She Demands Money and Threatens to Kill a Lawyer.

FRESNO, Cal., April 29.—Sarah Althea Hill-Terry made her appearance in the law office of C. G. Sayle, administrator of the estate of David S. Terry, yesterday and demanded some money. Sayle said he had none on hand belonging to the estate, but there were law books that might be sold. She then went into the adjoining office of Mr. Caldwell, attorney for the administrator, and, after wrangling with him, was ejected from the office. She returned and smashed the windows. Sayle then left his office and she followed, threatening to shoot him.

Sarah Althea Hill-Terry is the woman whose efforts to secure a share of the estate of the late Senator Sharon culminated in the tragic death of ex-Judge David S. Terry at Lathrop, Cal., last fall. She had claimed a common law marriage with Sharon, and produced a marriage contract in his handwriting when sueing for a division of the Sharon estate. In rendering a decision adverse to her in that case in September, 1888, Judge Field ordered her to surrender this marriage contract for cancellation. She created a scene in court by declaring that the judge's decision had been bought by the other side to the case, and became so disorderly that she was committed to jail for contempt. Her conduct so affected Judge Terry, her husband and her counsel, that he drew a bowie knife and threatened to kill the court officers who attempted to lead her away. He was disarmed and was also committed for contempt.

Soon after this Mrs. Terry assaulted Judge Sawyer, who had been interested in the Sharon contest, on a railway train in the San Joaquin valley, pulling his hair and striking at him with her umbrella. When her husband made the assault on Judge Field, for which he was killed by United States Marshal Nagle in the railway dining station at Lathrop, Cal., Mrs. Terry left the dining room to get her revolver, which had been left in the train. She was met and disarmed at the dining room door a few seconds after Judge Terry was shot. She made an impassioned appeal to the bystanders to lynch both Judge Field and the marshal, and, failing in this, threatened to kill the judge with her own hands. She has since reiterated her threats to avenge her husband's death, and is regarded as a very violent woman. It is generally believed that her troubles have driven her insane.

MISS NANNIE'S SURPRISE.

Palatka Society Enjoying a Romantic Sensation.

PALATKA, Fla., April 29.—[Special.]—The society people of this city were thrown into the wildest excitement this afternoon over the announcement made in the Evening Herald, that Miss Nannie Barnes had, last September, been married to Fred Heath, while she was visiting in Binghamton, N. Y. From that day until four weeks ago the marriage was not known by her parents. She returned from her visit north the same month she was married with her mother. The worst part about the whole matter is that the young lady is now engaged to be married to a young gentleman of Palatka, and the recent discovery has already caused a severe spell of sickness to come upon him. For several years, Miss Barnes has been a shining light in Palatka society, and had many gentleman admirers. She is a picture of beauty, and has broken the heart of more than one unfortunate suitor for her hand. She leaves Thursday to join her husband in Binghamton, who is cutter in a large tailoring establishment in that city. Gossipers of this city wonder how it was that the clandestine marriage was kept from them so long and silently.

A lady said she had hard work to get her druggist to keep Dr. Bull's Worm Destroyer, as he was anxious to sell another kind. But she made him get them for her. Go mother and do likewise.

Woman's Diseases

Are of such a character they cannot be discussed or treated as are complaints common to all mankind. Hence thousands of females become afflicted and remain so, suffering untold miseries from a sense of delicacy they can not overcome, yea, even sink into untimely graves before they will let anyone know they are suffering. YOUR OWN LIFE.

May Be Saved If You Will Think of Yourself a Moment and Then Act.

Ulceration of the bowels, usually called "itching piles," is a very common affliction, and not causing much pain is usually considered of small importance, and the disease is allowed to develop into a very grave affliction. The symptoms of this trouble are moisture and itching around the anus, pain across the hips (low down), diarrhœa, and irregular bowels, pain in lower part of same, indigestion, and a long train of nervous symptoms, differing in nearly every case); and in the female, who are more liable to be affected than the male, many symptoms usually attributed to female diseases. This disease is a very fruitful cause of many diseases refusing to yield to the treatment of your physician, and places you on the list of "incurables." The results of neglecting this affliction are terrible to contemplate, a general impairment of health, frequently so slow as to be scarcely noticeable, derangement of the nervous system, unfitting you for business or enjoyment of pleasure, the development of cancer and stricture of bowels, or loss of power of controlling same when happily death intervenes and relieves the sufferer of his tortures. This is a terrible picture, but a true one. You may by neglect make this your own; can you take the risk when a cure is offered you? Treating rectal diseases exclusively for a number of years, I am able to offer you a cure without the usual pain attending the treatment employed by one who has not the experience in treating these diseases. The mode of treatment I employ for their cure is mild and is not unpleasant in anyway, as I use neither knife or caustic applications. I have cured many, and I am willing that they should tell you of my success if you wish it. I can furnish you their names if you prefer it. On my past success I am willing to stand or fall. Can I offer you anything fairer? If you wish to investigate what I have said, I extend to you an invitation to consult me, (free of cost,) and I will prove all I have said to the satisfaction of the most skeptical. BRISTOL, VA. & TENN.

—THE—

Bristol Land Co.

—WILL, ON—

May 15, 16 and 17, 1890,

AT BRISTOL,

Offer for Sale, at Auction,

1,000

Business and Residence Lots, from its additions to the City of Bristol, Va.

Bristol is situated on the State Line, between Virginia and Tennessee, at the junction of the Norfolk and Western, and East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads; is the eastern terminus of the South Atlantic and Ohio railroad, extending from Bristol into the coal fields and connecting with Louisville and Nashville railroad, at Big Stone Gap, and is the western terminus of the Bristol, Eliz and No. Car railroad, now building into the rich ores of Doe Mountain and Roane's Creek in Johnson county, Tenn.

Bristol is not a "paper" city; it has a population of about 12,000, live, energetic people; is rapidly growing, and is destined to be one of the largest manufacturing cities of the south. It lies within three hours of inexhaustible coking and domestic coals, the richest iron ore in the United States, and immense bodies of Virgin timber, all of which reach Bristol via the S. A. and O. and Elizabethton roads.

Its advantages of transportation and nearness to markets, its elevation, (nearly 1,700 feet), delightful climate, and its SOLID BASIS IN MINERAL WEALTH and timber, present inducements for investments rarely met with. During the past year over $1,000,000 have been invested.

The Bristol Iron and Steel company (owned by Pennsylvania iron men) has commenced the construction, on the company's lands, of the largest furnace plant in the south.

Wait for this sale. Go to it, and take advantage of an opportunity to invest where returns must be large and quick. Ample hotel accommodations.

Dyspepsia Water

BLUERIDGE SPRINGS, VA.

NATURE'S WONDERFUL REMEDY!

A doctor learned in medical lore may safely prescribe for his patients a certain quantity of pills and potions, but he cannot presume to rival the exactness and completeness of Nature's Laboratory, in which are wrought remedial agents fresh from the gracious hand of the Great physician.

HUNDREDS OF CERTIFICATES CAN BE SHOWN

FROM DR. H. G. LEIGH, PETERSBURG, VA.

I have been using the water of Blue Ridge Springs in my practice for the past six years, and have found it invaluable in the treatment of Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Disorders of the Liver, Constipation and Chronic Rheumatism. It is peculiarly adapted to those diseases from the South where the stomach and liver are deranged.

My wife had been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia for years, had used various medicines and mineral waters, amongst them the Alleghany waters of Virginia and the Gettysburg waters of Pennsylvania, but without any relief until she resumed the waters of the Blue Ridge Springs. She has now been entirely relieved, and eats any article of diet she may please.

I consider this water equal, if not superior, to any mineral water I have ever used in the diseases above mentioned. Yours truly, H. G. LEIGH, M. D.

FROM MRS. T. M. OSMENT, CLEVELAND, TENN., MARCH 22, 1887.

I can most heartily add my testimony to the virtue of the Blue Ridge water, and what I have to say for it is the most that can be said of any remedial power, and that is, that my health is absolutely dependent upon it. My only escape from invalidism is to keep up my general health, and this the Blue Ridge water does for me, when specialists and medicines have failed. I use it as a constancy, because without tonic influence my vitality runs down. Nothing can make me robust, and nothing is therefore curative, but this water has been a God-send to me, and I wish all dyspeptics and all with exhausted vitality could have the same faith in it that I have and test it as fully. Yesterday, I sent one of my empty cases to be refilled for a friend, and hope to receive it soon. I am urging another friend to try it. You are at liberty to publish whatever you choose to extract from this letter. Very truly, MRS. T. M. OSMENT.

[NOTE.—Mrs. Osment has been using the Blue Ridge water regularly for the past eight years.—PHIL. F. BROWN.]

So satisfactory is the evidence that the waters of this Spring contain medical qualities of the highest order, that a company has been organized to place its merits prominently before the public, and a trial only is asked to convince the most skeptical.

THE STOCK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, April 29.—In Wall street today there were again free realizations, but the general sentiment, as indicated by the general course of prices, is still very bullish, and all offerings, both from realizations and the hammering of bears, are steadily absorbed, and prices continue to mount upward, slowly but steadily. Reports of an interview with Gould at St. Louis last evening created considerable of an impression that he is not a bear, as has been supposed by a large number of habitues of the street, on general principles, attributed to him in the interview, that "any holder of railroad securities cannot be." On the other hand, there is by no means a general belief that Gould is out of speculation and, consequently, looking for profits only on the earnings of roads in which he is interested.

The news circulated on the street on the strength of dispatches from Chicago that the basis of a settlement of the railroad fight had been reached failed of confirmation later in the day, and Gould's talk of "severe measures to secure permanent peace" is regarded in Wall street as indicating that he will continue the fight until the proposed organization to settle railroad rates is satisfactory to him.

The news that Chairman Walker had been summoned to St. Louis to confer with him, however, created a renewal of the bullish feeling, and the buying of Missouri Pacific became the great feature of the day.

The London market was again materially higher than ours last evening, and London sent buying orders, which had the effect of opening our market up with London favorites of Louisville and Nashville, Northern Pacific preferred leading. Northern Pacific was favorably affected by the news that a syndicate had taken the Northern Pacific bonds set aside to retire the issue of Oregon Transcontinental. Realizations, however, again forced prices off, and disappointment over the report of the Union Pacific made that stock a leader in the decline, which, however, in a few instances, reached over slight fractions. The vigorous rally started at noon, in which Vanderbilt stocks were most conspicuous, but later Missouri Pacific became the leader of the upward movement, which assumed large proportions. Lackawanna, Delaware and Hudson, Michigan Central, Wisconsin Central and other specialties joined in the movement and the whole list felt the stimulus which soon wiped out all early losses and the best prices were generally reached toward delivery hour. Realizations again put a stop to improvement for a time, and the market finally closed active and strong. Northern Pacific preferred leading. Final changes are almost invariably in the direction of higher figures. Sale of listed, 353,000: unlisted, 51,000 shares.

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

NEW YORK, April 29—[Special.]—The important bearing of the silver question upon cotton is again evident today. Early cables to us from Liverpool reported a decline of 5-16@⅜d in East Indian exchange, and a consequent decline of about two points in the Liverpool future market. This was followed by a decline in silver to 47, as against 48 yesterday, and a further recession of two points in the summer deliveries in Liverpool, the close there being easy at the lowest prices of the day. A liquidation of long account here was induced by the decline abroad, and prices have almost steadily declined. The depression is most marked in the summer positions, as the short interest in them is very small and buyers few. The autumn deliveries have shown more strength, and it seems not unlikely that August and September will come much more closely together. Houses whose connections bring them closely in touch with the East Indian markets, have continued free sellers of the summer positions today, and the feeling that the highest prices of the season have been touched is becoming more general. Despite this, however, but few have the courage to sell cotton short, and the market remains obvious a long one.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, April 29—Wheat was again very quiet today, and the feeling developed was weaker and prices averaged lower. There is no doubt that the widely advertised labor demonstration is having some effect upon trade, operators evidently feeling disposed to wait until the affair is settled. There was a lack of outside news, and that which did come to hand generally favored the interest of holders, but the influences did not have the usual effect, buyers being too timid, and instead of a strong market, prices gradually eased off. The opening was about ¼c higher for July than yesterday's closing, but eased off ¾c and closed about ⅝c lower than yesterday. May declined 1⅝c below the opening and closed 1¼c lower than yesterday. Cable advices were generally quite favorable to holders, and crop news was of a bullish character. Indiana and Missouri sent in gloomy reports today, and Indiana crop reports indicate a much smaller crop than last year.

Corn was fairly active, a good general speculative business being reported within a range of ⅛@⅜c. The feeling was weaker, and a still further decline was recorded on all futures. Fine weather and more liberal receipts were the chief influences on values, and offerings were larger than for several days past. A decline of outside markets, both eastern and western, helped to depress values. The market opened at yesterday's closing prices, was weak and sold off ⅛@⅜c, rallied a little, ruled steady and closed ¼@⅜c lower than yesterday.

Oats were fairly active but weaker, and prices ranged lower, but inside figures were not maintained, the last sales being at ¼c decline for May June, but steady for July and the more deferred futures. The weakness was due to large receipts.

Mess pork—Trading was comparatively light. Early the feeling was weak, and the opening sales were made at 15@20c decline. Later the market showed a little more steadiness, and prices rallied again 15@20c and closed comparatively steady.

Lard—A very light business was transacted, and the feeling was comparatively steady. Fluctuations in prices were slight and exhibited little change from the closing figures of yesterday.

Short rib sides—A fair trade was reported, but the bulk of the business was in transferring contracts. The opening sales were made at a slight decline on Monday's closing figures, but a steadier feeling prevailed later, and prices rallied 2½@5c. Toward the close the feeling became stronger, and the market closed at about outside figures.

Grady respectfully shows that they desire themselves and their successors to be incorporated and to become a body corporate and politic under the name and style of THE SOUTHERN FARM PUBLISHING CO.

The object of said corporation is to publish an agricultural and industrial journal known as "The Southern Farm," and to transact a general newspaper and publishing business.

The capital stock of said corporation is to be $6,000, which amount shall be paid in upon organization under the corporate name, and petitioners desire power to increase the same to $100,000 whenever they may deem it necessary.

The principal office of said corporation will be in Fulton county, but petitioners desire power to establish other offices wherever it may appear to their advantage so to do.

Petitioners desire the usual corporate powers; the right to buy and sell real property, to have, own and use printing materials and machinery, and all kinds of personal property, and to dispose of same at pleasure, to issue bonds secured by mortgage on reality and personalty in the usual commercial form, the power to sue and be sued, to plead and be impleaded, to have and use a common seal and to alter the same at will, to establish such by-laws for the government of said company as they may desire not repugnant to the laws of this state nor of the United States, and such other powers incident to corporations under the laws of this state as may be necessary for carrying on the business of this corporation.

Wherefore petitioners pray that this petion be filed in the clerk's office of said court, and be there recorded and then published as required by law, and that the court then pass an order incorporating them under the corporate name aforesaid for the full term of twenty years, with the privilege of renewal at the expiration of that time and with full powor to carry on such business as aforesaid, and to exercise all powers necessary to accomplish successfully the objects of their incorporation, and petitioners will ever pray, etc.
